Fires Claim Total Of 9 In Missouri

Five In One Family, Four In Another Are Victims In Blazes

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—A family of five perished early today in a fire that engulfed their home in north St. Louis County.

Friday night, 160 miles to the south, four children were killed in a fire that destroyed their frame farm home near Neelyville, Mo.

The St. Louis County victims were Robert Bennett Sr., 29; his wife, Lawanda, 28; and their children, Dianne, 9; Robert Jr., 2; and Sherry, 1.

The fire was in Riverview, a suburban community near the Mississippi River. A neighbor, George Kieffler, discovered the blaze on returning home from work. He said the house was a mass of flames and he was unable to arouse anyone.

Police said the victims had died of smoke inhalation.

The fire near Neelyville killed four children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Wray, who had moved there recently from Tucson, Ariz.

The victims were Michael 9; Charles 7; Margie, 11; and Joyce, 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Wray and another daughter, Toni, 2, escaped, but Mrs. Wray was burned on the hands and face while rescuing Toni.

A neighbor, J. R. Cosby, said he was awakened by Mrs. Wray's screams and ran to the scene. He said when he arrived the house was in flames and the three survivors were sitting on the ground in hysterics.

Mrs. Wray said she supposed faulty wiring had caused the fire. No stoves were turned on, she said.

Seeking End To Deadlock With Soviet

Formula For Accord On Future Of Split Germany Is Hope

GENEVA (AP) — The Western powers today were reported willing to discuss Berlin apart from their package plan for Germany in an attempt to break the deadlock with the Soviets.

The Big Four foreign ministers conference recessed over the weekend with the Soviets still insisting on the signing of a peace treaty with the two German states above everything else.

But hope persisted among Western diplomats of finding a formula for agreement on the future of divided Berlin. The crisis triggered by the Soviet's demand for Western withdrawal from West Berlin is expected to move steadily to the fore as the second week of the conference develops.

Whether there is any basis for agreement, however, remains to be seen, for the Soviet Union has so far stood firm on its demand for demilitarization of West Berlin, and the Western powers are standing pat on their refusal to abandon the Communist-encircled city.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter is flying to Rome today for a quick one-day goodwill visit. French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville is going to Paris for consultations with President Charles de Gaulle. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd are staying in Geneva.

Gromyko and his advisers—presumably in long-range consultation with the Kremlin—were reported preparing a point-by-point reply to the Western package plan. Gromyko has already turned down the package as a whole, denouncing it as a tangle of unrelated issues which would make any progress here impossible.

Western officials say he may pull various points out of the parcel and seek to discuss them individually. Berlin is one such issue, even though Communist spokesmen have rebuffed the specific Western proposal for merging West and Communist East Berlin into a single city under four power guarantees.

Another possibility foreseen by Western experts is that Gromyko may try to extract further concessions from the Western powers regarding direct negotiations between East and West German representatives.

Khrushchev Rejects West Plan On Germany

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev rejected today the Western proposals in Geneva for settling the German question.

"The Western proposal is put forward only for one purpose, to put the blame on us," he declared in a speech accepting the Lenin Peace Prize. "They won't have that pleasure."

Grateful To Be Alive

Godfrey Has Strict Orders For Recuperation Period

NEW YORK (AP)—Arthur Godfrey has said 'au revoir' to public life for 60 days to follow doctors' orders explicitly in recuperating from a lung cancer operation.

The radio and television star left Columbia Presbyterian Hospital Friday—a weak, trembling man but grateful to be alive.

Although aides tried to hustle him away to his New York apartment, the red-haired performer refused. He spoke to the press and asked through reporters to convey his thanks to so many well-wishers who have followed the results of his surgery.

Later from his Manhattan home Godfrey dictated a 1,000 - word statement concerning his recent operation, and hopes for the future.

Godfrey had told newsmen that "I got a break—he (the surgeon) got it out, under circumstances so trying that one slip or the other and I wouldn't be here talking to you."

In his statement, he elaborated on his getting a break.

He declared:

"I know why I got the break. I got it because so many people prayed for it. I'll have to admit that I didn't pray for it, because I never ask for anything for myself and besides, I have already had too many breaks. I only ask to be worthy of whatever is granted."

Godfrey's statement concluded: "Now, these doctors who performed this miracle of surgery have given me strong orders. I said 'What are your orders'? They answered 'No conferences, No business, No interviews, No tiring endeavors of any kind for at least 60 days. For two months you are to lie on the beach. If you do that you will make a good recovery."

After spending some time at his home here, the 55-year-old Godfrey will go to his 1,500-acre Virginia farm.

According to generalized figures from the American Cancer Society, the chances are 25-1 to 50-1 against Godfrey's survival.

Record Low Set For State Temperature

Temperatures skidded to an all-time low for this date and for this time of year early today in central Ohio with an official reading of 32 degrees.

The Weather Bureau here said the previous low for May 18 was 37 set in 1904. The previous low for the late spring season was 33-degrees reading on May 25, 1925. The mercury also dipped to 34 on May 18, 1891, records disclosed.

Columbus' 32 wasn't the lowest in the state. Pandora in Putnam County and Zanesville reported an official reading of 29 degrees early today.

The affect of the heavy frost on crops has not been determined.

Frost was reported last night in the county, especially in the northern section.

East Liverpool got a less cold low as Dam 8 recorded 38 about 5 a. m. today but it may go lower than that tonight as scattered light frost is forecast.

The temperature range for today will be 58 to 62 degrees and tonight 34 to 44. The dam reported a high Friday of 50 degrees.

Sunday will be mostly sunny and warmer.

Man Trapped For 2 Hours In Upset Truck

Pennsylvanian 'Fair' At Hospital With Burns And Injuries

A Huston (Pa.) tractor-trailer driver, hauling sheet steel, was trapped for over two hours in his cab after his truck overturned on Route 168, about 10 miles north of Burgettstown, early today.

Harold McClain, 46, is in "fair" condition at City Hospital with multiple contusions and abrasions of the body, possible internal injuries and burns of the arm from hot motor oil.

Additional injuries listed by the Carnegie barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police include possible fractures of the right arm and both legs, pelvis and severe shock.

State police said the accident occurred just before midnight. McClain, traveling south, apparently fell asleep. The truck went off the highway knocking out 12 guard posts, and then back onto the road and overturned, police said.

Charles Cunningham of Burgettstown, using an acetylene torch, cut through the crushed cab to free McClain, who was taken to City Hospital in the ambulance of the Slovan volunteer fire department near Burgettstown. Firemen also took precautions to prevent fire from the tractor's leaking gasoline tanks.

Pedestrian Struck By Hit-Skip Autoist

A 51-year-old pedestrian told police he was knocked down by a hit-skip motorist who crashed a traffic signal while he was crossing the street Friday night.

H. L. Wood, 345 E. 8th St., told police he received a leg bruise and an injury to his left hand in the mishap at 9:10 at Dresden Ave. and W. 6th St.

Wood walked to the police station a block away to report the accident. He said the driver went through a red light and did not give his name or stay long enough to see if he had been injured.

Richard Pack, 17, of 2207 Harvey Ave. reported he was driving west on Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." Friday night and was forced onto the berm and sideswiped by an unidentified car.

Pack said the other car crossed the centerline to force him off the road before sideswiping him. Both left doors and both front fenders of the 1957 sedan owned by Mrs. Lona Petties, 336 Penn Ave., Midland, were damaged, he told police.

Shutdown Set In August

A-Plant At Shippingport Due New Uranium 'Seed'

The first change of the highly enriched uranium "seed" in the nuclear reactor at the Shippingport atomic power station is expected about mid - August.

Lt. Mark Forcil, assistant to the director of operations and testing at the plant owned jointly by the Duquesne Light Co. and the Atomic Energy Commission, disclosed at the Lions Club luncheon Friday the 165 pounds of enriched uranium "seed" is expected to be changed about Aug. 15, just 4 months short of the second anniversary of the plant's operation.

The power station is expected to be shut down for about three months for the changeover, the engineer estimated. Originally, it was expected a change would require about two weeks.

A "blanket assembly" of 14 tons of natural uranium surrounding the "seed assembly" will not be changed at this time, he said.

When operations are resumed, the new "seed" elements are expected to last for 7,500 hours. As of noon yesterday, the core had 4,800 effective full power hours of operation and is expected to last for 6,000 hours, Forcil said.

The world's first central nuclear station designed solely for peacetime electrical power, the plant began to produce electricity on Dec. 18, 1957, and reached full power of some 60,000 kilowatts 5 days later, feeding its supply into the Duquesne transmission lines and furnishing electrical power for Pittsburgh and other Western Pennsylvania communities.

Since then it has operated at various levels for testing purposes and has furnished 300 million kilowatt hours of electricity to Duquesne lines, he added.

Speaking briefly following the showing of a color film, Forcil traced the history of nuclear fission to the construction of the plant at Shippingport.

In response to a question on contamination, Forcil declared, "The water being returned to the Ohio River from the plant is less radioactive than the water flowing down the river to the plant."

He pointed out the river water is purified, demineralized and deaerated before being used.

The plant cost the federal government and Duquesne about $120 million. It includes $19 million Duquesne spent for the conventional turbine generator and $55 million spent by the government for construction and $46 million for research and development.

In addition, Duquesne contributed $5 million for construction of the nuclear reactor and the 400-acre site at Shippingport.

The color film, "Power and Promise—The Story of Shippingport" shows the development of the plant from the groundbreaking ceremonies on Labor Day 1954, when President Eisenhower waved an electronic wand in Denver to trigger a power shovel into operation at the site to dedication of the plant by the President on May 26 last year.

In addition to the construction problems, the film details the complexities of building the nuclear reactor and moving it into place through the steel shell.

Forcil was introduced by Laurin Stacey, program chairman. Howard Tice, second vice president, presided.

Election of officers is scheduled Friday.

Shutdown Set In August

A-Plant At Shippingport Due New Uranium 'Seed'

The first change of the highly enriched uranium "seed" in the nuclear reactor at the Shippingport atomic power station is expected about mid - August.

Lt. Mark Forcil, assistant to the director of operations and testing at the plant owned jointly by the Duquesne Light Co. and the Atomic Energy Commission, disclosed at the Lions Club luncheon Friday the 165 pounds of enriched uranium "seed" is expected to be changed about Aug. 15, just 4 months short of the second anniversary of the plant's operation.

The power station is expected to be shut down for about three months for the changeover, the engineer estimated. Originally, it was expected a change would require about two weeks.

A "blanket assembly" of 14 tons of natural uranium surrounding the "seed assembly" will not be changed at this time, he said.

When operations are resumed, the new "seed" elements are expected to last for 7,500 hours. As of noon yesterday, the core had 4,800 effective full power hours of operation and is expected to last for 6,000 hours, Forcil said.

The world's first central nuclear station designed solely for peacetime electrical power, the plant began to produce electricity on Dec. 18, 1957, and reached full power of some 60,000 kilowatts 5 days later, feeding its supply into the Duquesne transmission lines and furnishing electrical power for Pittsburgh and other Western Pennsylvania communities.

Since then it has operated at various levels for testing purposes and has furnished 300 million kilowatt hours of electricity to Duquesne lines, he added.

Speaking briefly following the showing of a color film, Forcil traced the history of nuclear fission to the construction of the plant at Shippingport.

In response to a question on contamination, Forcil declared, "The water being returned to the Ohio River from the plant is less radioactive than the water flowing down the river to the plant."

He pointed out the river water is purified, demineralized and deaerated before being used.

The plant cost the federal government and Duquesne about $120 million. It includes $19 million Duquesne spent for the conventional turbine generator and $55 million spent by the government for construction and $46 million for research and development.

In addition, Duquesne contributed $5 million for construction of the nuclear reactor and the 400-acre site at Shippingport.

The color film, "Power and Promise—The Story of Shippingport" shows the development of the plant from the groundbreaking ceremonies on Labor Day 1954, when President Eisenhower waved an electronic wand in Denver to trigger a power shovel into operation at the site to dedication of the plant by the President on May 26 last year.

In addition to the construction problems, the film details the complexities of building the nuclear reactor and moving it into place through the steel shell.

Forcil was introduced by Laurin Staccy, program chairman. Howard Tice, second vice president, presided.

Election of officers is scheduled Friday.

Local 124. Strike benefits will be paid Monday, May 18th. 1 to 5 p. m. IBOP Hall. By order of Pres. — Ad.

Through Earth's Crust

Seafaring Oilmen To Dig Fabulous 'Mohole' At Sea

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Seafaring oilmen have taken the first technical steps toward digging the fabulous "mohole."

"Mohole" would be a hole dug through the earth's crust into the mysterious area or mantle lying underneath.

It has to be dug at sea where the earth's crust is thinnest. Drills and pipes first must reach down through perhaps three miles of water from ship to sea bottom. Then the actual drilling must go three to six miles deeper through the ocean bottom and rock to pierce the earth's crust.

Naturally, this would be a spectacular feat. But scientists are seriously proposing it, and even hunting for likely spots in the ocean.

One reward would be learning what the earth is made of under its skin or crust on which humans live. Secondly, foot by foot the drilling could bring up fossil deposits and rocks to learn the history of life and geological changes ever since the earth was a baby.

Drilling from a floating derrick barge already is being done by the Global Marine Exploration Co., Los Angeles, a subsidiary of Union Oil Co. of California.

This firm is making studies of the feasibility that mohole could actually be dug, said Tom W. Redin, company engineer.

Present techniques seem readily adaptible for the mohole challenge, he said in an interview at Global's exhibit at the International Petroleum Exposition.

Mohole gets its name from Moho—an abbreviation for Mohorovicic discontinuity. This means the boundary between the earth's crust and the mantle or uncertain composition underneath.

Driver To Appeal Conviction And Fine For Speeding

An East End man filed a notice of appeal today in Muncipal Court after being convicted of speeding.

Mario Bernardo, 2160 Harvey Ave., notified court officials he will appeal the fine of $10 and costs decreed by Judge George L. Brokaw. A hearing has been scheduled on the appeal Saturday morning.

Bernardo was found guilty following a hearing in which Patrolman Paul Carter and he testified. Carter cited Bernardo early Monday on Pennsylvania Ave. for speeding 50 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone.

Carter testified he followed Bernardo for about a mile before stopping him.

The motorist denied the charge, claiming he was traveling "at a speed not to exceed the speed limit" and claimed the officer trailed him for nine-tenths of a mile without halting him.

If Bernardo follows through on the appeal, he apparently will take the case to Common Pleas Court at Lisbon.

William N. Tressler of Fairmont forfeited a $7 bond for passing over a double yellow line on Dresden Ave. early today.

Prosecutor's Opinion Sought By Trustees

Liverpool Township trustees are checking with County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw on the problem of their traffic regulations. The problem came to light Monday when a speeding charge against a Calcutta woman was dismissed by Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw.

He ruled that the trustees have not certified a copy of their traffic regulations to the court and there is no evidence of the speed limit on township roads. It was brought out at the hearing by Atty. Lawrence Smith, counsel for the defendant Mrs. Sally Cloran, that the infraction happened outside the city and state law sets a speed limit of 60 miles an hour.

Council Plans To Vote Funds For 'Hill Road'

Council is scheduled to appropriate $5,700 Monday night as the city's share of a $35,000 State Highway Department project for blacktop resurfacing of E. 5th St. and the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." from Broadway to Maple St.

The money will be provided out of the city's "state highway improvement fund," made up of a percentage of the revenue it receives yearly as its share of gasoline tax and auto license fees. The city is required by state law to set aside a percentage of the money for work on state highways through the municipality.

Originally, the city's share of the project was set at $11,400, but county commissioners agreed recently to pay half of the cost. Earlier enabling legislation, in which the city pledged its co-operation in the project, was enacted by Council April 25.

Technically, the county will enter the agreement with the state for the work. Then the county and the city will enter into another agreement providing the municipality will pay $5,700 as its share.

The Highway Department's Division 11 office at New Philadelphia notified city officials April 22 of plans for the work. Commissioners agreed on April 24 to pay half the cost.

The $5,700 will be provided as part of an amended appropriation measure setting up funds for city departments —, mostly for small incidental expenses.

Council also may be given legislation authorizing the administration to buy a year's supply of motor fuels for city departments, including gasoline, oil and diesel fuel. The city generally advertises for bids on its requirements each spring.

Through Earth's Crust

Seafaring Oilmen To Dig Fabulous 'Mohole' At Sea

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Seafaring oilmen have taken the first technical steps toward digging the fabulous "mohole."

"Mohole" would be a hole dug through the earth's crust into the mysterious area or mantle lying underneath.

It has to be dug at sea where the earth's crust is thinnest. Drills and pipes first must reach down through perhaps three miles of water from ship to sea bottom. Then the actual drilling must go three to six miles deeper through the ocean bottom and rock to pierce the earth's crust.

Naturally, this would be a spectacular feat. But scientists are seriously proposing it, and even hunting for likely spots in the ocean.

One reward would be learning what the earth is made of under its skin or crust on which humans live. Secondly, foot by foot the drilling could bring up fossil deposits and rocks to learn the history of life and geological changes ever since the earth was a baby.

Drilling from a floating derrick barge already is being done by the Global Marine Exploration Co., Los Angeles, a subsidiary of Union Oil Co. of California.

This firm is making studies of the feasibility that mohole could actually be dug, said Tom W. Redin, company engineer.

Present techniques seem readily adaptible for the mohole challenge, he said in an interview at Global's exhibit at the International Petroleum Exposition.

Mohole gets its name from Moho—an abbreviation for Mohorovicic discontinuity. This means the boundary between the earth's crust and the mantle or uncertain composition underneath.

Driver To Appeal Conviction And Fine For Speeding

An East End man filed a notice of appeal today in Muncipal Court after being convicted of speeding.

Mario Bernardo, 2160 Harvey Ave., notified court officials he will appeal the fine of $10 and costs decreed by Judge George L. Brokaw. A hearing has been scheduled on the appeal Saturday morning.

Bernardo was found guilty following a hearing in which Patrolman Paul Carter and he testified. Carter cited Bernardo early Monday on Pennsylvania Ave. for speeding 50 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone.

Carter testified he followed Bernardo for about a mile before stopping him.

The motorist denied the charge, claiming he was traveling "at a speed not to exceed the speed limit" and claimed the officer trailed him for nine-tenths of a mile without halting him.

If Bernardo follows through on the appeal, he apparently will take the case to Common Pleas Court at Lisbon.

William N. Tressler of Fairmont forfeited a $7 bond for passing over a double yellow line on Dresden Ave. early today.

Prosecutor's Opinion Sought By Trustees

Liverpool Township trustees are checking with County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw on the problem of their traffic regulations. The problem came to light Monday when a speeding charge against a Calcutta woman was dismissed by Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw.

He ruled that the trustees have not certified a copy of their traffic regulations to the court and there is no evidence of the speed limit on township roads. It was brought out at the hearing by Atty. Lawrence Smith, counsel for the defendant Mrs. Sally Cloran, that the infraction happened outside the city and state law sets a speed limit of 60 miles an hour.

Council Plans To Vote Funds For 'Hill Road'

Council is scheduled to appropriate $5,700 Monday night as the city's share of a $35,000 State Highway Department project for blacktop resurfacing of E. 5th St. and the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." from Broadway to Maple St.

The money will be provided out of the city's "state highway improvement fund," made up of a percentage of the revenue it receives yearly as its share of gasoline tax and auto license fees. The city is required by state law to set aside a percentage of the money for work on state highways through the municipality.

Originally, the city's share of the project was set at $11,400, but county commissioners agreed recently to pay half of the cost. Earlier enabling legislation, in which the city pledged its co-operation in the project, was enacted by Council April 25.

Technically, the county will enter the agreement with the state for the work. Then the county and the city will enter into another agreement providing the municipality will pay $5,700 as its share.

The Highway Department's Division 11 office at New Philadelphia notified city officials April 22 of plans for the work. Commissioners agreed on April 24 to pay half the cost.

The $5,700 will be provided as part of an amended appropriation measure setting up funds for city departments — mostly for small incidental expenses.

Council also may be given legislation authorizing the administration to buy a year's supply of motor fuels for city departments, including gasoline, oil and diesel fuel. The city generally advertises for bids on its requirements each spring.

Cold War End Not In Berlin OK, Red Says

LONDON (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev says even settlement of the Berlin crisis will not end the cold war.

Moscow Radio today quoted Khrushchev as saying the cold war will persist as long as some countries are reluctant to recognize that "a world system of states with a new Socialist (Communist) order has come into being."

The broadcast said Khrushchev had made his remarks in an interview granted May 7 to R. K. Karanjia, publisher and editor of the newspaper Blitz of India.

Khrushchev did not minimize the question of West Berlin, calling it "a blazing stack which can start a fire."

But the Premier said the cold war did not begin with the Berlin crisis and "It will not therefore disappear with the normalization of Berlin, though without question a Berlin settlement would be important."

Khrushchev told Karanjia the only way out of the cold war is for capitalist states to accept coexistence with Communist countries.

Khrushchev claimed the "most likely" way to peace lies through a series of summit meetings.

"Pressing international problems cannot obviously all be settled at one go," he said in a reference to the summit parley generally expected later this year.

The clash came a few hours after almost all of Argentina's heavy industry was forced to shut down by a one-day antigovernment strike called by leftist and Peronist unions.

Cold War End Not In Berlin OK, Red Says

LONDON (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev says even settlement of the Berlin crisis will not end the cold war.

Moscow Radio today quoted Khrushchev as saying the cold war will persist as long as some countries are reluctant to recognize that "a world system of states with a new Socialist (Communist) order has come into being."

The broadcast said Khrushchev had made his remarks in an interview granted May 7 to R. K. Karanjia, publisher and editor of the newspaper Blitz of India.

Khrushchev did not minimize the question of West Berlin, calling it "a blazing stack which can start a fire."

But the Premier said the cold war did not begin with the Berlin crisis and "It will not therefore disappear with the normalization of Berlin, though without question a Berlin settlement would be important."

Khrushchev told Karanjia the only way out of the cold war is for capitalist states to accept coexistence with Communist countries.

Khrushchev claimed the "most likely" way to peace lies through a series of summit meetings.

"Pressing international problems cannot obviously all be settled at one go," he said in a reference to the summit parley generally expected later this year.

Sheriff Dan Tehan said, "Men and women prisoners don't have physical contact, but they have been exchanging notes for years."

Berlin Is Not The Stone Wall

As everyone knows, the Western Allies will not yield anything at Berlin. It is their policy to make the Soviet Union feel frustrated and foolish.

And as everyone can guess, the Soviet Union intends to yield nothing at Berlin. Its policy is to make the Western Allies knuckle under.

The prospects of reaching an understanding are about as bright as they are here at home in the negotiations between steel companies and the Steelworkers Union—and for pretty much the same reason.

It is not the purpose of the negotiators to come to an understanding. The stone wall both sides at Geneva are running into is not Berlin; it is the other side's determination to prove it cannot be forced to turn aside from the course it has set for itself.

Discussion and worry about Berlin, East Germany and West Germany are largely a waste of time as far as the negotiating teams at Geneva are concerned and as far as the people of the Western Allies are concerned. Nothing of any great consequence as far as Germany and Berlin are concerned is likely to be settled at Geneva.

PREMIER KHRUSHCHEV is making his climactic bid for status in international affairs. He has proved he has the bargaining power to do just about anything he chooses to do, and it is a good guess that what he chooses to do above all else is to attain for himself, his government and his country equal status with the United States.

This has been the fixed aim of Russian policy for a great many years. It has been the motivation for sometimes absurd claims of inventions and discoveries. It has been the motivation for extraordinary achievements in athletics, the arts and the sciences.

Russia, which was considered a third-rate power when World War II began, wants to show that it today is a first-rate power able to call the turn.

No one can deny it has proved what it set out to prove. Geneva now, the summit conference later—and the shape of things to come already is visible.

If the Soviet Union must speak for the Communist world, it will insist that the United States should stand alone, too—Premier Khrushchev vs. President Eisenhower. Nothing could split the Western Allies like the claim that the Kremlin was trying to deal exclusively with Washington.

IN THE UNITED STATES, foreign policy reflects the opinion and the will of the people. Every American is supposed to try to understand the nuances of diplomacy and the grand strategy of statesmanship.

It looks as if the Western Allies had been summoned to Berlin to inquire about the best terms they can expect from the Soviet Union in the Berlin tension and the standing problem of what to do with the Germans.

It looks as if they would be disappointed.

It looks as if the terms would be forthcoming later, from Premier Khrushchev in a face-to-face conference with President Eisenhower, who promised to stop a war in Korea because it couldn't be won.

More history is being made these days than could be guessed at by concentrating on arguments about Berlin and how to deal with the defeated Germans. They are the excuse, not the issue.

The issue is whether the Soviet Union finally is strong enough to make the West accept it as an equal. If not, Russia is in a position to set off some of history's most aggravated unpleasantness.

When Nature Improves On Science

We didn't know until we read it in "Variety," the show business magazine, but midgets have their own organization — "Little People of America." Nels Nelson, its four-foot-high vice president, says LPA can see no reason for not using midgets in a recent TV drama about the first man to be sent into orbit.

This sounds like the first rumble of what could turn into a noisy controversy, with philosophical overtones.

Will the United States insist on doing with rockets what it has insisted on doing with everything else? Will it take up gargantuanism in outer space where it left off on automotive wheelbases and the national debt? Will it tailor the space age to fit its behemoths or, for once, will it shuck off its preoccupation with beefiness?

We think the midgets should win this argument.

When the time comes to send a man into space, the payload must be as small as possible. The aim will be to get maximum results with minimum weight.

A four-foot midget would have a tremendous advantage over a six-foot payload, both in respect to cubic content and gross weight. Midget Nelson, the miniscule veepee, says his organization has a list of 68 perfectly formed U.S. midgets who would jump at a chance to beat the beef trust into orbit. Nature has made them small without any help from science.

If anyone asks us taxpayers, we're for the midgets, on the assumption this whole orbital madness is going to cost a billion a pound anyway.

'Local Boy' Returns

The task of revitalizing East Liverpool High School's sagging basketball fortunes has been entrusted to Jim Harris, a former cage star here.

Arguments usually rage pro and con when a "local boy" returns to assume a position of importance in his home town—be it in basketball or some other field.

There's the inevitable cry that he has two strikes against him from the beginning; many who "knew him when" begin sniping, and other unwarranted situations creep into the discussion. Fortunately, for every one who knocks there are dozens who wish him the greatest possible success.

While there are definite drawbacks for the fellow who comes back home, by the same token there are many advantages.

As a former star athlete himself and as an observer of the East Liverpool sport scene, Jim knows full well what will be expected of him. The rugged schedule, the demanding fans and the dozens of other things that enter into the picture will come as no surprise. He will be no stranger to the problems at hand and will take over with his eyes wide open.

And by his very acceptance of the post, Jim has expressed a confidence that he can meet the challenge and do the job expected.

Help CP Victims

There will be another knock on your door Sunday afternoon.

It will be by one of the many volunteer workers seeking contributions on behalf of the Cerebral Palsy campaign.

There have been many knocks previously —Red Cross; Heart Fund, Cancer Drive and March of Dimes among others—all for worthwhile causes. The CP appeal, though later than the above, is no less deserving.

The money you contribute will be used not only to fight the disease on the local level, but also will be tied in closely with the national program of research and training.

The organization here has provided diagnosis, treatment, education and vocational training for many victims of cerebral palsy. The dread disease strikes every 53 minutes across the nation, with more than 600,000 children and adults its victims in some form or another.

The need for money to carry on the fight is great, so give as generously to CP as you have to the other campaigns. As before, your reward will be the satisfaction that comes from helping those who need help.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

(Free Shakespeare in Central Park was ended by Mayor Wagoner's surrender to Park Commissioner Moses' cancellation order. The decision was reached at luncheon, and following is imaginary recording, with the ghost of Shakespeare present.)

Mayor: I have been in a pickle since I saw you last. Eat no onions or garlic, for we are here to utter sweet breath. The Bard of Avon may be near.

Moses: I will not budge an inch; let him come in, and kindly.

Shakespeare (sizing up Moses): Oh, what a deal of scorn in the contempt and anger on his lips!

Mayor: Unquiet meals make ill digestion. Let us reason together.

Shakespeare: Must one come in with a bush and throne and lantern. Let some man fetch plaster and some loam.

Moses: Lend me your ears, I come to buy Shakespeare, not to praise him.

Shakespeare: To play or not to play: that is the question. Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer the epistles of an irate commissioner, or to take arms against a sea of excoriations. This Moses doth bestride the world like a colossus, and we petty men walk under his legs.

Mayor: This will be an abusing of our patience and last out the night in Russia, where nights are longest. When shall we three meet again?

Moses: When the hurly-burly's done; when the battle's lost or won. I must have liberty withal to blow on whom I please. Cudgel thy brains no more about it.

Wagner: The deep of night is crept upon us. Let us make an expedient retreat.

BROADWAY IS TRYING the 7:30 evening curtain again, starting in September. If they ever get the curtain up by 8 or even 8:15 it will be a break. Custom has been to raise it around 8:40 or later, mainly to make life easier for those late diners exceeding the cocktail quota and pests who regard it as a constitutional right to arrive after the show has opened.

There are times when Casey Stengel must feel like taking the baseball race to UN.

DON'T LOOK NOW, boys, but that woman behind you may be a witch. They still stalk the earth according to Dr. Leopold Stein and Martha Alexander, "Loathesome Women." They give specific cases of women, beautiful and charming, practicing ways of witches with diabolical intent. They are as deadly as the worst witches of fable, authors say. The trouble is that we men still look for the broomstick. It was abandoned centuries ago for more modern transportation. If a witch had a broomstick today it would be a threetone stick with chromium cheesecake.

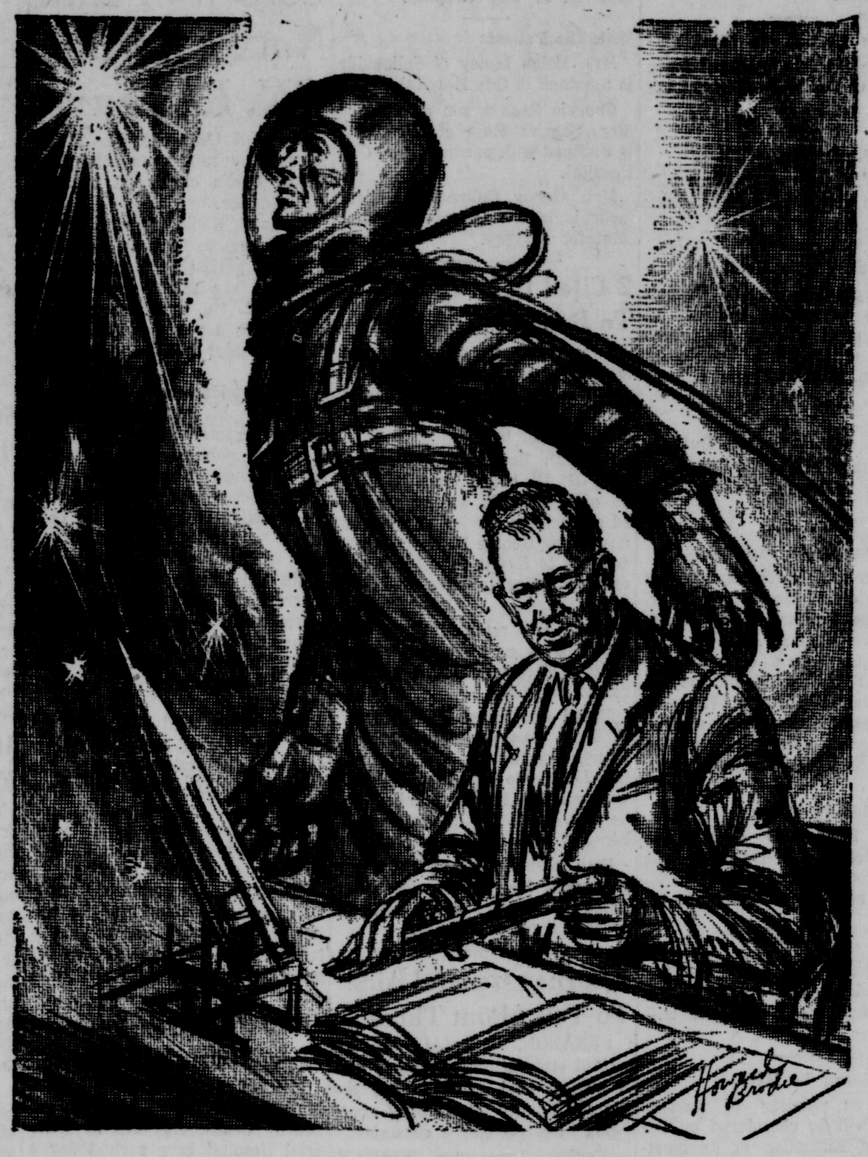
The Power Of Faith

By Howard Brodie



FAITH THAT AMERICANS LIVE BY—7

With man on the threshold of space exploration, I cornered one of America's leading space scientists in a Buffalo hotel and asked him if faith would be significant to the first space man.

"It will be important to him," said Dr. Everett T. Welmers, who is assistant to the president of Bell Aircraft for long range planning, and director of the Research Center, "because in the loneliness of space he will know he is not alone."

There is no contradiction, he went on, between religion and science.

"One of the first commandments of the Bible is that man should take dominion over and conquer the earth. Man is expected to understand and control it. Science helps towards that end."

As for his own faith, Dr. Welmers asserted, "It's been a natural part of my life since childhood."

On Sundays, he teaches the men's Bible class in Central Presbyterian Church. He has been an elder, a Sunday school superintendent, president of the presbytery council. Also he is a vice president of the New York Synod Council of Presbyterian Men.

"I feel I'm accomplishing as much on Sunday morning," he commented, "as any other day. Accomplishments in the field of religion are as real as in the field of science."

Compromise Necessary Part Of Legislature

By Duane E. Croft

COLUMBUS

What makes the State Legislature tick?

How do 172 individuals in two separate houses arrive at the decisions that convert a mass of controversial proposals into state policy?

The citizen who is idealistic about his democratic form of government is apt to picture each lawmaker sitting soberly at his desk on the floor, weighing the merits of each issue in terms of the common good and then casting his vote according to the dictates of his conscience.

The skeptic tends to think of the two-party system in terms of that vague phrase, "power politics." He envisions the majority and minority floor leaders (or their assistants, the party "whips") scurrying among their charges, telling them how to vote, beating the strays into line with threats of political revenge.

The cynic sees things in terms of "every man has his price." The final outcome, he firmly believes, depends upon who got to whom with the most.

ACTUALLY, none of these conceptions is completely right but they are all a little bit right.

Fortunately for Ohioans, the cynic has the most distorted picture. He is the furthest off base. Rarely are final decisions made on the basis of payoffs.

By and large, legislative action represents a mixture of conscience and politics. How much of each is involved depends so much upon the specific issue that it is impossible to state a general formula with any accuracy.

Because Ohio government is based on the two-party system, politics naturally plays a big role.

But Ohioans still cling jealously to that old American trait, individualism. They don't like to be herded together under a label and they certainly don't want their legislators to behave that way, either.

THE PARTY in the majority—Democrats this session — has the responsibility of putting across the program it promised in the election campaign.

The minority — Republicans this session for the first time in 10 years — is expected to challenge that program when it feels the policies would injure the state's well being.

But within each party there are individuals who feel free to disagree with the party line from time to time. This leads to interesting situations.

Three Senate Democrats, for instance, were able to stall the DiSalle administration's tax program until this week because they didn't agree with some changes sought in the sales tax.

So adamantly did they stand against the traditional political pressures that the leadership had to change its position, a rare spectacle indeed.

ONE OF THE THREE, J. Sherman Porter of Gallipolis, explained his position this way:

"I have been a DiSalle supporter all along and I agree with virtually all of his program. But I am against repealing the sales tax exemption for farm and manufacturing machinery as a matter of principle and you don't compromise on principle."

Sometimes lawmakers are accused of compromising their principles when that isn't their intent at all.

THE TOP Democratic powers in the Senate, for instance, are ever aware that they hold a slim three-vote margin over the 17 votes needed to pass a bill. They have tried to hold their party together on many secondary issues to build up strength for the big fights over controversial parts of the party program.

So they sometimes vote for a fellow Democrat's bill they don't really like and hope it will die on the House side.

That maneuver can work another way, too.

Several leading lights among the Democrats in the House recently helped defeat a bill to which they had no particular objection because it bore the name of a straying member as co-sponsor. The stray that very morning had voted with the GOP in committee to cut an administration tax increase in half.

FRESHMEN in the Legislature are faced with a special set of problems. Almost to a man they want to come back next time, so they are acutely aware of the reaction they get from the voters back home.

Yet because of their greenness they feel compelled to follow the usual advice to newcomers to "follow the party's lead."

When the party's stand is for unpopular tax increases, this can give rise to some deep soul-searching.

Is all this maneuvering and bartering good for democracy?

Taken out of context, the answer must be no. Theoretically, every legislator should be guided strictly by concern for the people he represents and the "common good."

YET IT IS only by maneuvering and bartering that 172 divergent views can be welded into positive action. This is compromise, and compromise is the essence of democracy.

Whatever party is in the majority, for instance, is always open to charges of "pressure tactics" and "railroading" as it maneuvers to put through its program.

Yet if it did not engage in strategic maneuvering, it would stand slim chance indeed of enacting any part of its platform.

Then it would be open to charges from the voters of welshing on its campaign promises.

Real Road To Peace

By David Lawrence

Elections Only Solution To Berlin Issue

GENEVA

The champions of freedom have told the dictatorship of the Soviet Union that there is no substitute for free and uncoerced elections as a means of determining the true will of a people. Germany can be reunited and the city of Berlin can be a "united city" but only if the heavy hand of totalitarianism is lifted and the people are permitted to choose their own form of government.

David Lawrence

This, in essence, is the big issue at the conference of the foreign ministers of Britain, France, the United States and the Soviet Union. This is the real road to peace —the way to get rid of festering sores that slowly but surely bring on the conditions out of which world wars are born.

The so-called "package plan" isn't properly described if by this is meant that it is a take-it-or-leave-it proposition and that its several successive stages cannot be altered by sincere and honest negotiations.

Its basic principle is unalterable. Either the status of a conquered province subject indefinitely to the military power of the conqueror is to remain or else some progress is to be achieved toward the grant of full sovereignty to all of Germany as a unit.

FOR A LONG TIME the position of the Western Allies has been that there should be free elections.

Former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles held out for this objective but his position was misconstrued as meaning that no step could be taken toward reunifying Germany except by a free election. Actually, he pointed out a few months ago that free elections could be a separate stage and that other steps could be taken first.

This is why the new plan is separated into four stages. It is a well - thought - out formula which permits the two German governments to get together through a committee and work out electoral laws which can be submitted to all the German people for a vote in the next 2½ years.

It provides for the making of a new constitution. It provides also for the meeting of a committee or council of West German and East German representatives to develope their own way of setting up election machinery and a unified system of government.

This is an enlightened approach to a complex problem. Berlin's status becomes secondary in the sense that things remain about as they are during the transition period but with better and clearer definitions about the access of Allied troops to the city. Also there are provisions for the gradual reduction of the size of the armies and a proposal for the withdrawal of any foreign troops later if the unified government doesn't want them there.

THE BASIC PRINCIPLE is one of volition. Theoretically, no government allows foreign troops on its soil unless consent is given. If a reunited Germany wants to join the Warsaw Pact dominated by the Soviets or to affiliate with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, as the West German government does today, this would be a choice which the all - German government would be free to make.

The idea of weaving the whole German problem into a security program for all Europe is also fundamental in the Western plan. For how can there be peace inside Europe unless the status of the two German governments is clarified and the German people are restored to full control of their own territory? By recognizing the interrelationship of an all - German government to the stability of Europe as a whole, the planners on the Western side have been courageously realistic.

The Western foreign ministers did not put out their plan suddenly. They worked over it a long time and for months the planning staffs have been drafting the main provisions. It is true that the Soviets have already pooh-poohed the plan and certain of the appeasers in the West will be saying soon that the program isn't desirable just because the Russians don't like it.

IT IS IMPORTANT for the West to stand firm of these principles, though ready to accept any improvement in methods of applying them that can be offered in any sincere effort to make it possible for the plan to achieve its main objectives.

Obviously Moscow will be testing out the West to see if there is a determination to stand back of the whole plan. This is the time of all times for the Allies to manifest unity and seriousness of purpose.

Throughout the Iron Curtain countries, where the first of freedom still burn in the hearts of the enslaved, the Western plan is more than a ray of hope. It is the symbol of earnest desire not to surrender to the will of the tyrant but to hold high the banner of freedom and free elections.

In that direction alone lies the road to reduced armaments and the prevention of another world war. Many a citizen in the Soviet Union as well as in the so-called satellite countries is secretly praying that some day a miracle will happen and free elections will become available to them, too. For when peoples rule, there is no chance of war. Only dictatorships cause wars.

Battle Hymn

By Truman Twill

"It sounds to me," said this doll I had been arguing with," as if you do not believe in democracy."

No, doll, I do not believe in democracy.

You do not believe in it, either.

No one believes in it — not in this country nor in any country.

Nowhere on earth are the people, themselves, in charge of making all decisions. Government would collapse in 24 hours if everybody had a hand in decision-making. No decisions could be made that way. There would be chaos—anarchy.

What we have going for us here is something called "representative democracy" but it started out to be a republic and would be better off if people got rid of the idea it should be anything else.

What they have done is to get mixed up between two irreconcilable systems of government. They are being pushed and hauled by a lot of knuckleheads who don't know any better plus a lot of sharpies who do.

The sharpies — sickle-sharpies in some cases — keep hammering at the knuckleheads to demand more "democracy," because democracy is supposed to be a great and noble ideal. And the knuckleheads keep falling for it.

The real struggle to keep this country from going down the pipe is not against something from the outside but this thing on the inside — this failure to understand why it is necessary in a republic to let the people's elected representatives make decisions, free from arm-twisting.

The idea is to elect representatives to make the best decisions they know how to make and if that isn't good enough to throw them out and elect someone else..

The idea is not to elect standins to take care of trifles while the people, themselves, nib into the big decisions with direct voting.

That is not a republic. It is not even representative democracy. It is chaos. There is only one way it could be kept from turning into chaos — to make every voter prove that he had taken the time and had the intelligence to comprehend every issue.

As it is, few voters have the know - how to comprehend even a handful of candidates. How, then, can voters be assumed to know about issues?

Yet, in a mockery of the Constitution, we are urged to take over the responsibilities of making major decisions on school levies and other major issues of government.

A long time ago in Russia, when the Bolsheviks were still busy, over there, democracy was given a trial. The boys and girls voted morning, noon and night on what they would do next. Naturally, they voted not to do anything next. That was where the sickle - sharpies learned that you can't have even a household unless someone runs it. They have been trying to paralyze America with vote-on-everything malarky ever since.

No, doll, I do not believe in democracy. No one does. But a lot of people who should know better have been conned into lousing up a republic by believing in it whenever the idea is to trip up someone on the verge of getting something done. And if this sounds like "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," it is.

Berlin Is Not The Stone Wall

As everyone knows, the Western Allies will not yield anything at Berlin. It is their policy to make the Soviet Union feel frustrated and foolish.

And as everyone can guess, the Soviet Union intends to yield nothing at Berlin. Its policy is to make the Western Allies knuckle under.

The prospects of reaching an understanding are about as bright as they are here at home in the negotiations between steel companies and the Steelworkers Union—and for pretty much the same reason.

It is not the purpose of the negotiators to come to an understanding. The stone wall both sides at Geneva are running into is not Berlin; it is the other side's determination to prove it cannot be forced to turn aside from the course it has set for itself.

Discussion and worry about Berlin, East Germany and West Germany are largely a waste of time as far as the negotiating teams at Geneva are concerned and as far as the people of the Western Allies are concerned. Nothing of any great consequence as far as Germany and Berlin are concerned is likely to be settled at Geneva.

PREMIER KHRUSHCHEV is making his climactic bid for status in international affairs. He has proved he has the bargaining power to do just about anything he chooses to do, and it is a good guess that what he chooses to do above all else is to attain for himself, his government and his country equal status with the United States.

This has been the fixed aim of Russian policy for a great many years. It has been the motivation for sometimes absurd claims of inventions and discoveries. It has been the motivation for extraordinary achievements in athletics, the arts and the sciences.

Russia, which was considered a third-rate power when World War II began, wants to show that it today is a first-rate power able to call the turn.

No one can deny it has proved what it set out to prove. Geneva now, the summit conference later—and the shape of things to come already is visible.

If the Soviet Union must speak for the Communist world, it will insist that the United States should stand alone, too—Premier Khrushchev vs. President Eisenhower. Nothing could split the Western Allies like the claim that the Kremlin was trying to deal exclusively with Washington.

IN THE UNITED STATES, foreign policy reflects the opinion and the will of the people. Every American is supposed to try to understand the nuances of diplomacy and the grand strategy of statesmanship.

It looks as if the Western Allies had been summoned to Berlin to inquire about the best terms they can expect from the Soviet Union in the Berlin tension and the standing problem of what to do with the Germans.

It looks as if they would be disappointed.

It looks as if the terms would be forthcoming later, from Premier Khrushchev in a face-to-face conference with President Eisenhower, who promised to stop a war in Korea because it couldn't be won.

More history is being made these days than could be guessed at by concentrating on arguments about Berlin and how to deal with the defeated Germans. They are the excuse, not the issue.

The issue is whether the Soviet Union finally is strong enough to make the West accept it as an equal. If not, Russia is in a position to set off some of history's most aggravated unpleasantness.

When Nature Improves On Science

We didn't know until we read it in "Variety," the show business magazine, but midgets have their own organization — "Little People of America." Nels Nelson, its four-foot-high vice president, says LPA can see no reason for not using midgets in a recent TV drama about the first man to be sent into orbit.

This sounds like the first rumble of what could turn into a noisy controversy, with philosophical overtones.

Will the United States insist on doing with rockets what it has insisted on doing with everything else? Will it take up gargantuanism in outer space where it left off on automotive wheelbases and the national debt? Will it tailor the space age to fit its behemoths or, for once, will it shuck off its preoccupation with beefiness?

We think the midgets should win this argument.

When the time comes to send a man into space, the payload must be as small as possible. The aim will be to get maximum results with minimum weight.

A four-foot midget would have a tremendous advantage over a six-foot payload, both in respect to cubic content and gross weight. Midget Nelson, the miniscule veepee, says his organization has a list of 68 perfectly formed U.S. midgets who would jump at a chance to beat the beef trust into orbit. Nature has made them small without any help from science.

If anyone asks us taxpayers, we're for the midgets, on the assumption this whole orbital madness is going to cost a billion a pound anyway.

'Local Boy' Returns

The task of revitalizing East Liverpool High School's sagging basketball fortunes has been entrusted to Jim Harris, a former cage star here.

Arguments usually rage pro and con when a "local boy" returns to assume a position of importance in his home town—be it in basketball or some other field.

There's the inevitable cry that he has two strikes against him from the beginning; many who "knew him when" begin sniping, and other unwarranted situations creep into the discussion. Fortunately, for every one who knocks there are dozens who wish him the greatest possible success.

While there are definite drawbacks for the fellow who comes back home, by the same token there are many advantages.

As a former star athlete himself and as an observer of the East Liverpool sport scene, Jim knows full well what will be expected of him. The rugged schedule, the demanding fans and the dozens of other things that enter into the picture will come as no surprise. He will be no stranger to the problems at hand and will take over with his eyes wide open.

And by his very acceptance of the post, Jim has expressed a confidence that he can meet the challenge and do the job expected.

Help CP Victims

There will be another knock on your door Sunday afternoon.

It will be by one of the many volunteer workers seeking contributions on behalf of the Cerebral Palsy campaign.

There have been many knocks previously —Red Cross, Heart Fund, Cancer Drive and March of Dimes among others—all for worthwhile causes. The CP appeal, though later than the above, is no less deserving.

The money you contribute will be used not only to fight the disease on the local level, but also will be tied in closely with the national program of research and training.

The organization here has provided diagnosis, treatment, education and vocational training for many victims of cerebral palsy. The dread disease strikes every 53 minutes across the nation, with more than 600,000 children and adults its victims in some form or another.

The need for money to carry on the fight is great, so give as generously to CP as you have to the other campaigns. As before, your reward will be the satisfaction that comes from helping those who need help.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

(Free Shakespeare in Central Park was ended by Mayor Wagoner's surrender to Park Commissioner Moses' cancellation order. The decision was reached at luncheon, and following is imaginary recording, with the ghost of Shakespeare present.)

Mayor: I have been in a pickle since I saw you last. Eat no onions or garlic, for we are here to utter sweet breath. The Bard of Avon may be near.

Moses: I will not budge an inch; let him come in, and kindly.

Shakespeare (sizing up Moses): Oh, what a deal of scorn in the contempt and anger on his lips!

Mayor: Unquiet meals make ill digestion. Let us reason together.

Shakespeare: Must one come in with a bush and throne and lantern. Let some man fetch plaster and some loam.

Moses: Lend me your ears, I come to buy Shakespeare, not to praise him.

Shakespeare: To play or not to play; that is the question. Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer the epistles of an irate commissioner, or to take arms against a sea of excoriations. This Moses doth bestride the world like a colossus, and we petty men walk under his legs.

Mayor: This will be an abusing of our patience and last out the night in Russia, where nights are longest. When shall we three meet again?

Moses: When the hurly-burly's done; when the battle's lost or won. I must have liberty withal to blow on whom I please. Cudgel thy brains no more about it.

Wagner: The deep of night is crept upon us. Let us make an expedient retreat.

BROADWAY IS TRYING the 7:30 evening curtain again, starting in September. If they ever get the curtain up by 8 or even 8:15 it will be a break. Custom has been to raise it around 8:40 or later, mainly to make life easier for those late diners exceeding the cocktail quota and pests who regard it as a constitutional right to arrive after the show has opened.

There are times when Casey Stengel must feel like taking the baseball race to UN.

DON'T LOOK NOW, boys, but that woman behind you may be a witch. They still stalk the earth according to Dr. Leopold Stein and Martha Alexander, "Loathesome Women." They give specific cases of women, beautiful and charming, practicing ways of witches with diabolical intent. They are as deadly as the worst witches of fable, authors say. The trouble is that we men still look for the broomstick. It was abandoned centuries ago for more modern transportation. If a witch had a broomstick today it would be a threetone stick with chromium cheesecake.

The Power Of Faith

By Howard Brodie

FAITH THAT AMERICANS LIVE BY—7

With man on the threshold of space exploration, I cornered one of America's leading space scientists in a Buffalo hotel and asked him if faith would be significant to the first space man.

"It will be important to him," said Dr. Everett T. Welmers, who is assistant to the president of Bell Aircraft for long range planning, and director of the Research Center, "because in the loneliness of space he will know he is not alone."

There is no contradiction, he went on, between religion and science.

"One of the first commandments of the Bible is that man should take dominion over and conquer the earth. Man is expected to understand and control it. Science helps towards that end."

As for his own faith, Dr. Welmers asserted, "It's been a natural part of my life since childhood."

On Sundays, he teaches the men's Bible class in Central Presbyterian Church. He has been an elder, a Sunday school superintendent, president of the presbytery council. Also he is a vice president of the New York Synod Council of Presbyterian Men.

"I feel I'm accomplishing as much on Sunday morning," he commented, "as any other day. Accomplishments in the field of religion are as real as in the field of science."

Compromise Necessary Part Of Legislature

By Duane E. Croft

COLUMBUS

What makes the State Legislature tick?

How do 172 individuals in two separate houses arrive at the decisions that convert a mass of controversial proposals into state policy?

The citizen who is idealistic about his democratic form of government is apt to picture each lawmaker sitting soberly at his desk on the floor, weighing the merits of each issue in terms of the common good and then casting his vote according to the dictates of his conscience.

The skeptic tends to think of the two-party system in terms of that vague phrase, "power politics." He envisions the majority and minority floor leaders (or their assistants, the party "whips") scurrying among their charges, telling them how to vote, beating the strays into line with threats of political revenge.

The cynic sees things in terms of "every man has his price." The final outcome, he firmly believes, depends upon who got to whom with the most.

ACTUALLY, none of these conceptions is completely right but they are all a little bit right.

Fortunately for Ohioans, the cynic has the most distorted picture. He is the furthest off base. Rarely are final decisions made on the basis of payoffs.

By and large, legislative action represents a mixture of conscience and politics. How much of each is involved depends so much upon the specific issue that it is impossible to state a general formula with any accuracy.

Because Ohio government is based on the two-party system, politics naturally plays a big role.

But Ohioans still cling jealously to that old American trait, individualism. They don't like to be herded together under a label and they certainly don't want their legislators to behave that way, either.

THE PARTY in the majority—Democrats this session — has the responsibility of putting across the program it promised in the election campaign.

The minority — Republicans this session for the first time in 10 years — is expected to challenge that program when it feels the policies would injure the state's well being.

But within each party there are individuals who feel free to disagree with the party line from time to time. This leads to interesting situations.

Three Senate Democrats, for instance, were able to stall the DiSalle administration's tax program until this week because they didn't agree with some changes sought in the sales tax.

So adamantly did they stand against the traditional political pressures that the leadership had to change its position, a rare spectacle indeed.

ONE OF THE THREE, J. Sherman Porter of Gallipolis, explained his position this way:

"I have been a DiSalle supporter all along and I agree with virtually all of his program. But I am against repealing the sales tax exemption for farm and manufacturing machinery as a matter of principle and you don't compromise on principle."

Sometimes lawmakers are accused of compromising their principles when that isn't their intent at all.

THE TOP Democratic powers in the Senate, for instance, are ever aware that they hold a slim three-vote margin over the 17 votes needed to pass a bill. They have tried to hold their party together on many secondary issues to build up strength for the big fights over controversial parts of the party program.

So they sometimes vote for a fellow Democrat's bill they don't really like and hope it will die on the House side.

That maneuver can work another way, too.

Several leading lights among the Democrats in the House recently helped defeat a bill to which they had no particular objection because it bore the name of a straying member as co-sponsor. The stray that very morning had voted with the GOP in committee to cut an administration tax increase in half.

FRESHMEN in the Legislature are faced with a special set of problems. Almost to a man they want to come back next time, so they are acutely aware of the reaction they get from the voters back home.

Yet because of their greenness they feel compelled to follow the usual advice to newcomers to "follow the party's lead."

When the party's stand is for unpopular tax increases, this can give rise to some deep soul-searching.

Is all this maneuvering and bartering good for democracy?

Taken out of context, the answer must be no. Theoretically, every legislator should be guided strictly by concern for the people he represents and the "common good."

YET IT IS only by maneuvering and bartering that 172 divergent views can be welded into positive action. This is compromise, and compromise is the essence of democracy.

Whatever party is in the majority, for instance, is always open to charges of "pressure tactics" and "railroading" as it maneuvers to put through its program.

Yet if it did not engage in strategic maneuvering, it would stand slim chance indeed of enacting any part of its platform.

Then it would be open to charges from the voters of welshing on its campaign promises.

Real Road To Peace

By David Lawrence

Elections Only Solution To Berlin Issue

GENEVA

The champions of freedom have told the dictatorship of the Soviet Union that there is no substitute for free and uncoerced elections as a means of determining the true will of a people. Germany can be reunited and the city of Berlin can be a "united city" but only if the heavy hand of totalitarianism is lifted and the people are permitted to choose their own form of government.

David Lawrence

This, in essence, is the big issue at the conference of the foreign ministers of Britain, France, the United States and the Soviet Union. This is the real road to peace —the way to get rid of festering sores that slowly but surely bring on the conditions out of which world wars are born.

The so-called "package plan" isn't properly described if by this is meant that it is a take-it-or-leave-it proposition and that its several successive stages cannot be altered by sincere and honest negotiations.

Its basic principle is unalterable. Either the status of a conquered province subject indefinitely to the military power of the conqueror is to remain or else some progress is to be achieved toward the grant of full sovereignty to all of Germany as a unit.

FOR A LONG TIME the position of the Western Allies has been that there should be free elections.

Former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles held out for this objective but his position was misconstrued as meaning that no step could be taken toward reunifying Germany except by a free election. Actually, he pointed out a few months ago that free elections could be a separate stage and that other steps could be taken first.

This is why the new plan is separated into four stages. It is a well - thought - out formula which permits the two German governments to get together through a committee and work out electoral laws which can be submitted to all the German people for a vote in the next 2½ years.

It provides for the making of a new constitution. It provides also for the meeting of a committee or council of West German and East German representatives to develope their own way of setting up election machinery and a unified system of government.

This is an enlightened approach to a complex problem. Berlin's status becomes secondary in the sense that things remain about as they are during the transition period but with better and clearer definitions about the access of Allied troops to the city. Also there are provisions for the gradual reduction of the size of the armies and a proposal for the withdrawal of any foreign troops later if the unified government doesn't want them there.

THE BASIC PRINCIPLE is one of volition. Theoretically, no government allows foreign troops on its soil unless consent is given. If a reunited Germany wants to join the Warsaw Pact dominated by the Soviets or to affiliate with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, as the West German government does today, this would be a choice which the all - German government would be free to make.

The idea of weaving the whole German problem into a security program for all Europe is also fundamental in the Western plan. For how can there be peace inside Europe unless the status of the two German governments is clarified and the German people are restored to full control of their own territory? By recognizing the interrelationship of an all - German government to the stability of Europe as a whole, the planners on the Western side have been courageously realistic.

The Western foreign ministers did not put out their plan suddenly. They worked over it a long time and for months the planning staffs have been drafting the main provisions. It is true that the Soviets have already pooh-poohed the plan and certain of the appeasers in the West will be saying soon that the program isn't desirable just because the Russians don't like it.

IT IS IMPORTANT for the West to stand firm of these principles, though ready to accept any improvement in methods of applying them that can be offered in any sincere effort to make it possible for the plan to achieve its main objectives.

Obviously Moscow will be testing out the West to see if there is a determination to stand back of the whole plan. This is the time of all times for the Allies to manifest unity and seriousness of purpose.

Throughout the Iron Curtain countries, where the first of freedom still burn in the hearts of the enslaved, the Western plan is more than a ray of hope. It is the symbol of earnest desire not to surrender to the will of the tyrant but to hold high the banner of freedom and free elections.

In that direction alone lies the road to reduced armaments and the prevention of another world war. Many a citizen in the Soviet Union as well as in the so-called satellite countries is secretly praying that some day a miracle will happen and free elections will become available to them, too. For when peoples rule, there is no chance of war. Only dictatorships cause wars.

Unfinished Building Marks Growth Of Latter Day Saints

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—The dominant landmark in Harry Truman's home town is the oval copper dome of a still unfinished building.

It's the world headquarters of the 170,000-member Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

The Reorganized Latter Day Saints are related to — but are not to be confused with — the 1,400,000-member Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints (Mormons).

The near completion of the building marks another milestone in the story of a denomination that is growing and thriving in an area from which it was once driven by mobs.

The site was dedicated in 1831 by Joseph Smith Jr., founding prophet and first president of the Mormon Church, which he had organized only the year before in Fayette, N.Y.

Independence was to have been the Zion of the Mormons, the City of God. But the promises of a bright future in what was then a frontier outpost did not last.

Two years after its dedication almost all evidences of the early settlement were obliterated by an angry mob.

The mob chased the Mormons across the Missouri River and burned more than 200 homes belonging to church members. Through the years, the property was lost to squatters and back taxes.

The Mormons scattered with many of them settling in Nauvoo, Ill. The Prophet Joseph Smith and his brother, Hyrum, were slain by a mob in Carthage, Ill., in 1844.

A critical division of authority followed the slaying of the leader.

A quorum of 12 took over the leadership and it was this group that migrated to Utah in 1846 to establish the headquarters of the Mormon Church.

But some members did not go —among them the men instrumental in setting up the Reorganized Latter Day Saints in 1852.

They took the position that the Utah group had departed from the teachings of Joseph Smith and, therefore, was an apostate group.

At a general conference of the Reorganized group in 1860, Joseph Smith III, oldest son of the founder, was called to the presidency.

His sons, Frederick and Israel, later headed the church and last October, William Wallace Smith, a half-brother, became the fifth president.

It was not until 1906 that headquarters of the Reorganized Latter Day Saints was returned to Independence, the original choice of the founder, from which they had been driven three-quarters of a century before.

Confident Living

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale

Know What You Want Out Of Life

That great historian James Truslow Adams once made a suggestion that is worth consideration. "Perhaps it would be a good idea, fantastic as it sounds, to muffle every telephone, stop every motor and halt all activity for an hour some day to give people a chance to ponder for a few minutes what it is all about, why they are living, and what they really want." I think this is an interesting suggestion. And, even if you can't muffle your telephone or turn off the motors all around you, it's well worth following. It is a sad fact that all too few of us know what it is all about, why we are living and what we really want—where we want to go and where we are headed. To make it even sadder, many of us who think we know these answers may have the wrong answers.

Dr. Peale

IN MY OWN experience with a good many people, I have found that some men never get a grip on success because there are so many other things they won't let go of. What do I mean by that? I mean that these people cling to wrong ideas, wrong attitudes, wrong approaches, wrong ways of living, and so they miss out on the best values.

If you really want to get the most out of life, it is important to know something about the basic truths of life. The Bible tells us one vital truth which it would be well to stress: "No good thing will He (the Lord) withhold from them that walk uprightly."

How does that truth work out in life in a practical sense? Well, let me tell you about a man who came to see me about getting a job. He sat down and told me at length about his abilities and how good he was. And I listened and thought, "If he has all this ability and is this good, why does he come to see me asking my help?"

Then he told me about all the influential people he knew. And again I thought, "If he knows all these people, why does he need me?"

—:—

BUT, AS he talked, the reason for his failure became obvious. He wasn't telling me all there was to tell about himself. He was dealing in vague half-truths. So I stopped him and told him just that.

"You'll never get to first base until you begin to be honest with yourself and with other people," I said. I rather laid it on the line and with considerably humbled attitude, he said, "O.K. what can I do about it?" I wrote out the following five-point program for him. "This will help you to walk uprightly like a man with something on the ball," I said.

1.—I will be honest with myself.

2.—I will be honest with other people.

3.—I will say nothing derogatory about anyone.

4.—I will be morally straight and eliminate all double talk and double dealing.

5.—I will visualize my goal, pray for guidance and really go to work.

I guess I must have shocked him into being honest by my bluntness because he took my program and actually tried it. He got a job and he's doing quite well in it. He learned the Bible's lesson that no good thing will be withheld from the man who walks uprightly.

—:—

IF THAT word "uprightly" bothers you, don't let it. What do you mean uprightly? It means, of course, to walk in right ways. But more than that it means to walk without slumping.

It means to walk strong, the way God intended us to walk when He made us in His image. It means to stand up to problems like a man and not crawl through life on your hands and knees letting everything lick you. It is only by upright strength that we can be sure of getting what we want out of life.

First of all, know what you want out of life, and be sure that it is a worthy objective. Then realize that you can make yourself worthy of any worthy objective. Hold that objective before you at all times even when the going is hard. Strive for it with everything you have, always believing that God is helping you. Then you will find that no good thing will He withhold from you.

BEHIND THE RED SHIELD

SYMBOL OF SERVICE

National Salvation Army Week is being observed May 17-24, and the Red Shield emblem of our movement has become familiar to many people.

Unarmed, except for love of their fellowmen and an eagerness to be of service, Salvation Army men and women walk in narrow alleyways of run-down neighborhoods, in wards of hospitals, and in prison corridors, offering friendly help to the homeless, the destitute, the sick, the alcoholic.

Frightened unmarried mothers, neglected babies, families beset with problems, the hungry, and the homeless are among the millions of all races and creeds who know the warm smile beneath the bonnet, the helping hand and the undaunted courage of Salvation Army men and women to whom no human problem is too difficult to undertake . . . to these, and many others, The Salvation Army Shield is significant.

Confident Living

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale

Know What You Want Out Of Life

That great historian James Truslow Adams once made a suggestion that is worth consideration. "Perhaps it would be a good idea, fantastic as it sounds, to muffle every telephone, stop every motor and halt all activity for an hour some day to give people a chance to ponder for a few minutes what it is all about, why they are living, and what they really want." I think this is an interesting suggestion. And, even if you can't muffle your telephone or turn off the motors all around you, it's well worth following. It is a sad fact that all too few of us know what it is all about, why we are living and what we really want—where we want to go and where we are headed. To make it even sadder, many of us who think we know these answers may have the wrong answers.

IN MY OWN experience with a good many people, I have found that some men never get a grip on success because there are so many other things they won't let go of. What do I mean by that? I mean that these people cling to wrong ideas, wrong attitudes, wrong approaches, wrong ways of living, and so they miss out on the best values.

If you really want to get the most out of life, it is important to know something about the basic truths of life. The Bible tells us one vital truth which it would be well to stress: "No good thing will He (the Lord) withhold from them that walk uprightly."

How does that truth work out in life in a practical sense? Well, let me tell you about a man who came to see me about getting a job. He sat down and told me at length about his abilities and how good he was. And I listened and thought, "If he has all this ability and is this good, why does he come to see me asking my help?"

Then he told me about all the influential people he knew. And again I thought, "If he knows all these people, why does he need me?"

—:—

BUT, AS he talked, the reason for his failure became obvious. He wasn't telling me all there was to tell about himself. He was dealing in vague half-truths. So I stopped him and told him just that.

"You'll never get to first base until you begin to be honest with yourself and with other people," I said. I rather laid it on the line and with considerably humbled attitude, he said, "O.K. what can I do about it?" I wrote out the following five-point program for him. "This will help you to walk uprightly like a man with something on the ball," I said.

1.—I will be honest with myself.

2.—I will be honest with other people.

3.—I will say nothing derogatory about anyone.

4.—I will be morally straight and eliminate all double talk and double dealing.

5.—I will visualize my goal, pray for guidance and really go to work.

I guess I must have shocked him into being honest by my bluntness because he took my program and actually tried it. He got a job and he's doing quite well in it. He learned the Bible's lesson that no good thing will be withheld from the man who walks uprightly.

—:—

IF THAT word "uprightly" bothers you, don't let it. What do you mean uprightly? It means, of course, to walk in right ways. But more than that it means to walk without slumping.

It means to walk strong, the way God intended us to walk when He made us in His image. It means to stand up to problems like a man and not crawl through life on your hands and knees letting everything lick you. It is only by upright strength that we can be sure of getting what we want out of life.

First of all, know what you want out of life, and be sure that it is a worthy objective. Then realize that you can make yourself worthy of any worthy objective. Hold that objective before you at all times even when the going is hard. Strive for it with everything you have, always believing that God is helping you. Then you will find that no good thing will He withhold from you.

BEHIND THE RED SHIELD

THE SALVATION ARMY

SYMBOL OF SERVICE

National Salvation Army Week is being observed May 17-24, and the Red Shield emblem of our movement has become familiar to many people.

Unarmed, except for love of their fellowmen and an eagerness to be of service, Salvation Army men and women walk in narrow alleyways of run-down neighborhoods, in wards of hospitals, and in prison corridors, offering friendly help to the homeless, the destitute, the sick, the alcoholic.

Frightened unmarried mothers, neglected babies, families beset with problems, the hungry, and the homeless are among the millions of all races and creeds who know the warm smile beneath the bonnet, the helping hand and the undaunted courage of Salvation Army men and women to whom no human problem is too difficult to undertake . . . to these, and many others, The Salvation Army Shield is significant.

His garden is the envy of all the neighbors. They say it's because he has a green thumb.
But the truth of the matter is, he loves to see things grow . . . and he works hard to help them grow . . . and he enjoys the hard work because he finds deep satisfaction in the beauty of its fruit.
The same spirit pervades the churches of our community. Congregations thrive and souls grow in spiritual strength because of consecrated men and women who love to see this God-given growth . . . who work hard to implant Christian truth in their hearts and yours . . . who enjoy this unselfish dedication of their time and talents and treasure because they share the joy of Christ in its spiritual fruit.
Be an active church member! Volunteer for enriching service in your congregation's busy, fruitful life!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses

Monday	1 Kings	9	15-28
Tuesday	1 Kings	10	1-22
Wednesday	1 Kings	10	23

His garden is the envy of all the neighbors. They say it's because he has a green thumb.

But the truth of the matter is, he loves to see things grow . . . and he works hard to help them grow . . . and he enjoys the hard work because he finds deep satisfaction in the beauty of its fruit.

The same spirit pervades the churches of our community. Congregations thrive and souls grow in spiritual strength because of consecrated men and women who love to see this God-given growth . . . who work hard to implant Christian truth in their hearts and yours . . . who enjoy this unselfish dedication of their time and talents and treasure because they share the joy of Christ in its spiritual fruit.

Be an active church member! Volunteer for enriching service in your congregation's busy, fruitful life!

School Head Is PTA Guest

Supt. S. E. Daw spoke on the operation of primary schools when he addressed the final meeting of the term of the Hillcrest-Fairview Parent-Teacher Association Thursday night at the Yellow Creek Township school.

Questions on operation of a cafeteria and bus service when the school joins the Wellsville school district were answered.

Earl Bake, president of the Wellsville Board of Education, introduced Richard Rowe, a member, and Raymond Rowley, clerk.

Richard Payne, retiring president, installed new officers, Mrs. Betty Glass, president; Mrs. Leola Mountford, first vice president; Mrs. Betty Cline, second vice president; Mrs. Mary Johnston, secretary, and Mrs. Hilja Lauva, treasurer.

John Randolph, a faculty member and school safety director, spoke on safety, cautioning parents to keep plastic bags away from youngsters because of the danger of suffocation.

Janet Ferguson and Terry Flesch reported on the seventh - eighth grade trip to Washington, and Janet Birch and Sandy Reese played a piano duet.

Plans were discussed for a lawn festival May 22 at the school. A candy sale held last night netted $10.

The attendance banner was won by the eighth grade.

Refreshments were served 70 by Mrs. Floyd Richards and committee.

Leishman Reports $36 Expenses For Salineville Voting

Kenneth Leishman, who won the Republican mayoralty nomination at Salineville in the May 5 primaries over Karl Lindner, incumbent, reported campaign expenses totaling $36 to the Columbiana County Election Board.

Leishman scored a 6-vote victory over Mayor Lindner, who was seeking nomination to a sixth term. Earlier, Lindner reported expenses of $33.

Councilman William Y. Orr, who won renomination in East Liverpool's Second Ward in the GOP primary, reported he had no expenses. John F. Kelly, who won the Democratic nomination in the same ward, said his spending totaled $18.

The reports are required under the so - called "corrupt practices act," which puts a ceiling on campaign expenses. They must be filled by all candidates, whether or not they were successful, and by committees that supported or opposed any candidate or issue.

The deadline for the sworn statements is June 19 at 4 p. m.

City Motorist Fined $30 On 2 Complaints

An East Liverpool motorist was fined a total of $30 and costs on two charges Thursday by Mayor William Shoub of Wellsville.

Richard A. Baker, 938 Lisbon St., was fined $15 and costs each on charges of driving left of center and for operating an unsafe vehicle. He was cited Thursday on Route 267 by the State Highway Patrol.

Donald Smith of Route 170 was fined $10 by Mayor Shoub on a charge of driving without a valid driver's license. He was cited May 8 by the patrol.

$800 Reported Taken In Tavern Burglary

NEW CUMBERLAND — Hancock County sheriff's deputies are continuing an investigation into the burglary of Johnny's Place, a Route 2 tavern, in which $800 in cash and merchandise was stolen Wednesday.

The loot was reported to have included 4 wrist watches, about $500 to $600 in cash and 9 cigarette lighters. The currency was removed from a strongbox upstairs.

Entry was gained through a small window in the basement.

How Much Is It Worth?

More, undoubtedly, than the day you bought it. Replacement costs have gone up more than 19% in the last five years; more than doubled since 1941.

For a small additional premium you can up-date your insurance and protect yourself against today's high replacement costs. For information, without obligation, phone—call—write . . .

General Tire Co., URW Sign Pact

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — General Tire & Rubber Co. and the United Rubber Workers Friday signed a new contract, granting "substantial" improvement in pensions, insurance, working conditions and supplemental unemployment compensation.

The agreement, covering 3,200 workers in plants here and in Waco Tex., runs to May 1, 1961. However, provisions covering pensions and insurance extend to May 1, 1964. The contract must be approved by both locals and the URW executive board.

Terms were not disclosed, but a URW spokesman said pension provisions were better than those recently negotiated with Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., U.S. Rubber Co., and Seiberling Rubber Co.

The union still is continuing its strikes at Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. and B. F. Goodrich Co., with 32,000 workers idle for a month.

Rejects Zone Change

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Citing overtaxed school facilities, the zoning commission has turned down an application for a zone change for some 400 new homes in Austintown Township. Thomas Arne, chairman of the Austintown commission, said the new homes would mean 1,000 more school children "and we don't have enough classrooms for our own kids."

Emphasis on the patrol method will be included in the training program to teach individual initiative and self reliance, Rayburn said.

On the staff with Rayburn are Al West, Fred Yonz, Thomas Snow, Colin Brown, David Fugate, Pete Webb, Dan Kelly, Frank Hancock, Victor Pucci, Fred Young, Ken Mugridge, Larry Thompson, Earl Locke, Bill Martin, Caesar Peters, Herb Beaver, Al Peppin and Jim Willard.

School Head Is PTA Guest

Supt. S. E. Daw spoke on the operation of primary schools when he addressed the final meeting of the term of the Hillcrest-Fairview Parent-Teacher Association Thursday night at the Yellow Creek Township school.

Questions on operation of a cafeteria and bus service when the school joins the Wellsville school district were answered.

Earl Bake, president of the Wellsville Board of Education, introduced Richard Rowe, a member, and Raymond Rowley, clerk.

Richard Payne, retiring president, installed new officers, Mrs. Betty Glass, president; Mrs. Leola Mountford, first vice president; Mrs. Betty Cline, second vice president; Mrs. Mary Johnston, secretary, and Mrs. Hilja Lauva, treasurer.

John Randolph, a faculty member and school safety director, spoke on safety, cautioning parents to keep plastic bags away from youngsters because of the danger of suffocation.

Janet Ferguson and Terry Flesch reported on the seventh - eighth grade trip to Washington, and Janet Birch and Sandy Reese played a piano duet.

Plans were discussed for a lawn festival May 22 at the school. A candy sale held last night netted $10.

The attendance banner was won by the eighth grade.

Refreshments were served 70 by Mrs. Floyd Richards and committee.

Leishman Reports $36 Expenses For Salineville Voting

Kenneth Leishman, who won the Republican mayoralty nomination at Salineville in the May 5 primaries over Karl Lindner, incumbent, reported campaign expenses totaling $36 to the Columbiana County Election Board.

Leishman scored a 6-vote victory over Mayor Lindner, who was seeking nomination to a sixth term. Earlier, Lindner reported expenses of $33.

Councilman William Y. Orr, who won renomination in East Liverpool's Second Ward in the GOP primary, reported he had no expenses. John F. Kelly, who won the Democratic nomination in the same ward, said his spending totaled $18.

The reports are required under the so - called "corrupt practices act," which puts a ceiling on campaign expenses. They must be filled by all candidates, whether or not they were successful, and by committees that supported or opposed any candidate or issue.

The deadline for the sworn statements is June 19 at 4 p. m.

City Motorist Fined $30 On 2 Complaints

An East Liverpool motorist was fined a total of $30 and costs on two charges Thursday by Mayor William Shoub of Wellsville.

Richard A. Baker, 938 Lisbon St., was fined $15 and costs each on charges of driving left of center and for operating an unsafe vehicle. He was cited Thursday on Route 267 by the State Highway Patrol.

Donald Smith of Route 170 was fined $10 by Mayor Shoub on a charge of driving without a valid driver's license. He was cited May 8 by the patrol.

$800 Reported Taken In Tavern Burglary

NEW CUMBERLAND — Hancock County sheriff's deputies are continuing an investigation into the burglary of Johnny's Place, a Route 2 tavern, in which $800 in cash and merchandise was stolen Wednesday.

The loot was reported to have included 4 wrist watches, about $500 to $600 in cash and 9 cigarette lighters. The currency was removed from a strongbox upstairs.

Entry was gained through a small window in the basement.

How Much Is It Worth?

More, undoubtedly, than the day you bought it. Replacement costs have gone up more than 19% in the last five years; more than doubled since 1941.

General Tire Co., URW Sign Pact

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — General Tire & Rubber Co. and the United Rubber Workers Friday signed a new contract, granting "substantial" improvement in pensions, insurance, working conditions and supplemental unemployment compensation.

The agreement, covering 3,200 workers in plants here and in Waco Tex., runs to May 1, 1961. However, provisions covering pensions and insurance extend to May 1, 1964. The contract must be approved by both locals and the URW executive board.

Terms were not disclosed, but a URW spokesman said pension provisions were better than those recently negotiated with Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., U.S. Rubber Co., and Seiberling Rubber Co.

The union still is continuing its strikes at Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. and B. F. Goodrich Co., with 32,000 workers idle for a month.

Rejects Zone Change

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Citing overtaxed school facilities, the zoning commission has turned down an application for a zone change for some 400 new homes in Austintown Township. Thomas Arne, chairman of the Austintown commission, said the new homes would mean 1,000 more school children "and we don't have enough classrooms for our own kids."

Pierce Masters Yanks, 6-0, As White Sox Win 7th In Row

Tribe Beats Boston, 4-3; Orioles And A's Triumph

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Little Billy Pierce, twice a 20-game winner and one of the best left-handers now pitching, finally is catching up with the New York Yankees.

At 32, Pierce has only a 21-30 lifetime record against the Yankees, but he gained his fifth victory in his last six decisions against them Friday night, blanking New York on six singles for a 6-0 Chicago victory that gave the suddenly hot White Sox a seven-game streak.

The seven-game streak — longest in the majors this season — kept the second-place White Sox within a half-game of the American League leading Cleveland Indians, who won a 4-3 at Boston. Baltimore clung to third with a 2-1 victory over Detroit. Kansas City edged within .003 percentage points of fourth-place Washington by beating the Senators 4-2.

Pierce now has a 5-2 record and has allowed just one run in his last 16 innings.

The White Sox collected six of their nine hits off Whitey Ford (3-2). Ford gave up the only run Pierce needed in the first inning when the Sox scored on singles by Luis Aparicio and Nellie Fox and an infield out.

Rookie Jim Perry, making his second save in two games for Cleveland, retired Dick Gernert, Pete Daley and Bill Renna in order after Jackie Jensen's two-run homer had chased Mudcat Grant in the ninth. Grant (2-0) had a three-hitter until the ninth.

Rocky Colavito hammered his ninth homer for the Indians in a two-run second and Minnie Minoso wrapped it up with his fourth, a two-run shot, in the third.

Bob Nieman's fourth homer, following Bob Boyd's leadoff single, won it in the ninth for the Orioles over Detroit.

Russ Kemmerer, who had won four straight, had the A's blanked until the seventh, when Hector Lopez rapped a three-run homer to wrap it up for Kansas City.

Coe Sparks U.S. Team To 4-0 Margin In Golf

MUIRFIELD, Scotland (AP) — American Walker Cup Captain Charlie Coe today found himself in the same position as the great Bobby Jones was in 1928.

Thirty-one years ago Jones sparked the U.S. amateur golf team to a 4-0 lead over Britain in the Walker Cup Scotch foursomes. Coe did the same for the United States Friday.

Jones, as the reigning U.S. amateur champion, went out the following day in the singles against T. P. Perkins and routed the British titleholder 13 and 12 for the biggest margin in the 37-year old history of the international competition.

Today, Coe, 35, from Oklahoma City played British champion Joe Carr of Ireland in the top singles match of this year's competition. Coe is the U.S. amateur champion.

Coe partnered Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N.C. in a 9 and 8 victory Friday over Arthur Perowne and Michael Bonallack.

That was the only runaway match. Harvey Ward, San Francisco, and Dr. Frank Taylor, Pomona, Calif., defeated Reid Jack and Douglas Sewell, one up. Bill Hyndman, Philadelphia, and Tommy Aaron, Gainesville, Ga., beat Carr and Guy Wolstenholme, one up. Ward Wettlaufer, Buffalo, N.Y., and Jack Nicklaus, Columbus, Ohio, downed Michael Lunt and Alex Shepperson 2 and 1 completing the rout.

11 Will Race In Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP)—Eleven of the nation's swiftest 3-year-old thoroughbreds, drawn by the magnetism of a historic race and the richest prize ever offered for their division, awaited the start at Pimlico today for the 83rd running of the Preakness.

Already in the bulging purse was $179,300, to be swollen to $190,300 if all 11 start after their owners cough up another $1,000 apiece.

About 35,000 persons were on hand to see Brookmeade Stable's Sword Dancer, the probable favorite, take on 10 classy challengers.

Of these, the advance odds-guessers gave First Landing of Christopher T. Chenery's Meadow stable the best chance of beating the game little colt who lost by a heart-breaking nose to the now absent Tomy Lee in the Kentucky Derby two weeks ago. First Landing, shuffled back in the 17-horse pack in that one, got up enough steam to finish third by two lengths.

Lending a special twist to the nationally televised (4:30-5 p.m. CBS) drama scheduled to unfold at 4:45 (EST) was Willie Shoemaker's clambering aboard Sword Dancer. It was Willie who steered Tomy Lee to victory in the mile-and-a-quarter derby.

Gopher Nine Nears Repeat

By The Associated Press

Minnesota took another step toward its second straight Big Ten baseball championship by scoring two runs in the ninth inning Friday to defeat Iowa 3-1.

With five games left to play, the Gophers hold a game and a half lead over Illinois which defeated Michigan 8-5.

In other games Friday, Michigan State climbed into a third place tie with Indiana by defeating Purdue 6-3; Wisconsin downed Ohio State 6-3; and Northwestern clipped Indiana 4-3.

Minnesota (8-1) plays a doubleheader at Iowa (3-7) today and Illinois (7-3) takes on Michigan State (6-4) in a twin bill. Other doubleheader action finds Indiana (6-4) at Wisconsin (5-5), Ohio State (4-6) at Northwestern (3-6) and Michigan (5-5) at Purdue (1-7).

A five-run rally in the third inning featuring Ed Cannon's two-run double was all pitcher Marty Stillman needed to lift Wisconsin into the first division. Ohio State collected nine hits but couldn't bunch them effectively.

Harrison Leads Sam Snead Golf By 1 With 136

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP)—The old guard of golf represented by 49-year-old E. J. (Dutch) Hharrison and 47-year-old Sam Snead were lording it over the new crop again today swinging into the third round of the 12th annual festival at Snead's domain.

Harrison stepped into the halfway lead of the 72-hole Snead Festival Friday with his second workmanlike two-under-par 68.

Snead fell a stroke off his opening 68, but his 137 total still kept him in the threatening runner-up spot.

Doug Sanders, 25-year-old from Cedartown, Ga., managed to cling in contention in third place. Sanders and the 23-year-old Bruce Crampton of Sydney, Australia, had stolen the opening show with 67 scores.

Sanders went one over par 70 on his second tour of the 52-degree, windswept course in the mountains for a 138 total. Crampton, complaining bitterly of the cold, rocketed to 73 and his even par 140 strokes were matched by four others in the field of 54.

Rookie Jim Perry Saves League Lead For Indians

By BOB HOOBING
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP)—Cleveland owes its American League lead today to rookie relief pitcher Jim Perry who has no victories and an unimpressive earned run average.

The 23-year-old North Carolinian's secret—self-confidence and control.

For the second time in four night's Perry strolled in from the bullpen to save a one-run victory for the Indians Friday night. His efforts kept Cleveland half a game ahead of fast-closing Chicago by means of a 4-3 verdict over Boston.

Jim (Mudcat) Grant started the ninth inning holding a 4-1 lead. He had allowed the Red Sox only three hits. Then Frank Malzone singled and Jackie Jensen powered his ninth homer into the left field screen.

Perry squelched the uprising by getting Dick Gernert and Pete Daley on grounders and pinch hitter Bill Renna on a long fly to center.

In New York Tuesday night, the righthander worked the final two innings to save a 7-6 decision and struck out three in the process. After Tony Kubek opened the ninth with a double, the Jamesville, N. C., righthander fanned Mickey Mantle, got Yogi Berra on a popup and whiffed Elston Howard.

His earned run average is 6.00. It's his cockiness that explains Perry's jump from Class A ball (Reading, Eastern League) to the majors in a few short months.

Perry, not on the club roster, was invited to the Tucson, Ariz., spring training camp as a temporary batting practice pitcher. Upon his arrival Jim told manager Joe Gordon and the Indians' brass he was going to make the club. He did.

"When I came in Mr. Gordon told me: 'Keep it low and get 'em out,'" Perry said in the dressing room Friday night.

"I wasn't as fast as I was in New York," he added. "But I had a plan here. I worked for control knowing a walk, followed by a hit, could lose it. I threw fast balls and sliders—no curves.

"In New York it was hot and I felt like pitching. Here it was cold and I went out just to get the ball over. The ball Renna hit was the only bad one I threw. It was a fast ball that was supposed to be low but it sailed."

Grant got credit for his second victory with no losses. The Tribe gave Grant a 4-0 lead with two runs in the second and two in the third.

Rocky Colavito started things off in the second with his ninth home run of the season, a line drive to the left field screen. Another run came on singles by Minnie Minoso and Billy Martin and a wild throw by Pete Runnels.

In the third inning Minoso hit his fourth home run of the season, scoring Colavito, who had walked.

All the Cleveland runs were scored off loser Tom Brewer (1-3).

Al Lopez More Convinced Yankees 'Can Be Taken'

NEW YORK (AP)—Al Lopez is more convinced than ever today that the New York Yankees, four-time champions, are ready to be taken in the American League.

The Chicago White Sox manager emphasized that his conclusions were not drawn merely on his team's victory 6-0 Friday night, but more on the manner in which the Yankees lost.

"They're not getting the phenomenal pitching they got at this time last year," he said, "and their defense isn't as good as it has been in the past. They've been losing games they would have won last year."

Lopez obviously was referring to the three miscues committed by the Yankees which permitted the White Sox to score three extra runs, as well as Whitey Ford's inability to go past the sixth inning. It marked the 12th straight game that a Yankee pitcher failed to go the distance.

"It looks like the Yankees have a couple of legitimate challengers in Cleveland and Chicago," Lopez said.

"In previous years, the Yankees used second-string pitchers against teams they knew they could beat and saved their aces—Reynolds, Raschi and Lopat against us. Last year it was Whitey Ford and Bob Turley. They can't do that any more. They've got to shoot everything they've got against every club to keep winning."

The triumph left the White Sox half a game behind the league-leading Cleveland Indians, and 5½ games in front of the seventh-place Yankees.

Lopez credited the White Sox surge to veteran outfielder Del Ennis, recently obtained from Cincinnati on waivers, and third baseman Bubba Phillips.

In the last seven games, Ennis has had 10 hits in 25 times at bat for a .400 average. Phillips has done even better, 15 in 31 times at bat for .484.

California Governor Signs Second Base Bill

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown figures second base might come in handy when the San Francisco Giants move into their new stadium at Candlestick Point later this season.

By an odd omission, when a portion of the ball park area was sold by the state in 1870, the transaction was never properly recorded. As a result the state still technically owns a hunk of real estate right where second base will be.

Brown signed a bill Friday to prevent anyone but the ball players from stealing second base.

Kathleen Attorney Wins Lebanon Race

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Kathleen Attorney, a little-rated brown mare, hung back in last place through the first half of the race, then put on a stretch drive to victory in the featured pace at Lebanon Raceway Friday night.

But the judges had to untangle a five-horse photo finish before the verdict was set. Kathleen Attorney beat out Johnny Chase for the victory.

The 2:06 mile by the mare returned $16.40, $7.20 and $4 to mutuel bettors.

Al Washington, a Bedford, Pa., driver, came in with both ends of the daily double. Victories by Virginia Oliver and King Steven set up a $32.80 return.

A crowd of 2,044 bet $70,531.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mrs. Laura Hamill's Entangler, packing top weight of 123 pounds, was the favorite over 11 other horses in today's 19th running of the two-mile Ascot Gold Cup.

Because of recent rains the Ascot Park turf may be muddy and upset the form. Chief competition for Entangler is expected to come from Golden Lark, Deadly Actor and Ferman.

Miami Pitcher Seeks Return To The Majors

By The Associated Press

Miami right-hander John Fisher, sporting a 5-0 record and a flashy 1.40 earned run average, is clamoring for a return shot at a major league pitching berth.

Fisher, who compiled a 14-11 record for Wilson, N. C., in the Carolina League in 1958, was taken to Baltimore's spring training camp for a look-see. The Orioles apparently didn't like what they saw. They're probably rechecking now.

The 20-year-old Augusta, Ga., resident pitched his fifth consecutive complete game Friday night for the Marlins, shutting out Richmond 5-0 on six hits as Miami upped its lead to three games over second-place Buffalo.

In the only other game played, last-place Havana dumped Columbus 8-2. The other clubs were idled by rain.

Consecutive home runs by Tony Gonzalez and Lou Skizas were the key blows in Havana's six - run seventh inning uprising that chased Lynn Lovenguth. Gonzalez blast with two on put the Sugar Kings ahead 4-2 and Skizas put the icing on it with his homer off reliever Don Williams. Emile Cueche scattered nine hits to record his third victory.

Pierce Masters Yanks, 6-0, As White Sox Win 7th In Row

Tribe Beats Boston, 4-3; Orioles And A's Triumph

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Little Billy Pierce, twice a 20-game winner and one of the best left-handers now pitching, finally is catching up with the New York Yankees.

At 32, Pierce has only a 21-30 lifetime record against the Yakees, but he gained his fifth victory in his last six decisions against them Friday night, blanking New York on six singles for a 6-0 Chicago victory that gave the suddenly hot White Sox a seven-game streak.

The seven-game streak — longest in the majors this season — kept the second-place White Sox within a half-game of the American League leading Cleveland Indians, who won a 4-3 at Boston. Baltimore clung to third with a 2-1 victory over Detroit. Kansas City edged within .003 percentage points of fourth-place Washington by beating the Senators 4-2.

Pierce now has a 5-2 record and has allowed just one run in his last 16 innings.

The White Sox collected six of their nine hits off Whitey Ford (3-2). Ford gave up the only run Pierce needed in the first inning when the Sox scored on singles by Luis Aparicio and Nellie Fox and an infield out.

Rookie Jim Perry, making his second save in two games for Cleveland, retired Dick Gernert, Pete Daley and Bill Renna in order after Jackie Jensen's two-run homer had chased Mudcat Grant in the ninth. Grant (2-0) had a three-hitter until the ninth.

Rocky Colavito hammered his ninth homer for the Indians in a two-run second and Minnie Minoso wrapped it up with his fourth, a two-run shot, in the third.

Bob Nieman's fourth homer, following Bob Boyd's leadoff single, won it in the ninth for the Orioles over Detroit.

Russ Kemmerer, who had won four straight, had the A's blanked until the seventh, when Hector Lopez rapped a three-run homer to wrap it up for Kansas City.

Rookie Jim Perry Saves League Lead For Indians

By BOB HOOBING
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP)—Cleveland owes its American League lead today to rookie relief pitcher Jim Perry who has no victories and an unimpressive earned run average.

The 23-year-old North Carolinian's secret—self-confidence and control.

For the second time in four night's Perry strolled in from the bullpen to save a one-run victory for the Indians Friday night. His efforts kept Cleveland half a game ahead of fast-closing Chicago by means of a 4-3 verdict over Boston.

Jim (Mudcat) Grant started the ninth inning holding a 4-1 lead. He had allowed the Red Sox only three hits. Then Frank Malzone singled and Jackie Jensen powered his ninth homer into the left field screen.

Perry squelched the uprising by getting Dick Gernert and Pete Daley on grounders and pinch hitter Bill Renna on a long fly to center.

In New York Tuesday night, the righthander worked the final two innings to save a 7-6 decision and struck out three in the process. After Tony Kubek opened the ninth with a double, the Jamesville, N. C., righthander fanned Mickey Mantle, got Yogi Berra on a popup and whiffed Elston Howard.

His earned run average is 6.00. It's his cockiness that explains Perry's jump from Class A ball (Reading, Eastern League) to the majors in a few short months.

Perry, not on the club roster, was invited to the Tucson, Ariz., spring training camp as a temporary batting practice pitcher. Upon his arrival Jim told manager Joe Gordon and the Indians' brass he was going to make the club. He did.

"When I came in Mr. Gordon told me: 'Keep it low and get 'em out,'" Perry said in the dressing room Friday night.

"I wasn't as fast as I was in New York," he added. "But I had a plan here. I worked for control knowing a walk, followed by a hit, could lose it. I threw fast balls and sliders—no curves.

"In New York it was hot and I felt like pitching. Here it was cold and I went out just to get the ball over. The ball Renna hit was the only bad one I threw. It was a fast ball that was supposed to be low but it sailed."

Grant got credit for his second victory with no losses. The Tribe gave Grant a 4-0 lead with two runs in the second and two in the third.

Rocky Colavito started things off in the second with his ninth home run of the season, a line drive to the left field screen. Another run came on singles by Minnie Minoso and Billy Martin and a wild throw by Pete Runnels.

In the third inning Minoso hit his fourth home run of the season, scoring Colavito, who had walked.

All the Cleveland runs were scored off loser Tom Brewer (1-3).

Coe Sparks U.S. Team To 4-0 Margin In Golf

MUIRFIELD, Scotland (AP) — American Walker Cup Captain Charlie Coe today found himself in the same position as the great Bobby Jones was in 1928.

Thirty-one years ago Jones sparked the U.S. amateur golf team to a 4-0 lead over Britain in the Walker Cup Scotch foursomes. Coe did the same for the United States Friday.

Jones, as the reigning U.S. amateur champion, went out the following day in the singles against T. P. Perkins and routed the British titleholder 13 and 12 for the biggest margin in the 37-year old history of the international competition.

Today, Coe, 35, from Oklahoma City played British champion Joe Carr of Ireland in the top singles match of this year's competition. Coe is the U.S. amateur champion.

Coe partnered Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N.C. in a 9 and 8 victory Friday over Arthur Perowne and Michael Bonallack.

That was the only runaway match. Harvey Ward, San Francisco, and Dr. Frank Taylor, Pomona, Calif., defeated Reid Jack and Douglas Sewell, one up. Bill Hyndman, Philadelphia, and Tommy Aaron, Gainesville, Ga., beat Carr and Guy Wolstenholme, one up. Ward Wettlaufer, Buffalo, N.Y., and Jack Nicklaus, Columbus, Ohio, downed Michael Lunt and Alex Shepperson 2 and 1 completing the rout.

11 Will Race In Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP)—Eleven of the nation's swiftest 3-year-old thoroughbreds, drawn by the magnetism of a historic race and the richest prize ever offered for their division, awaited the start at Pimlico today for the 83rd running of the Preakness.

Already in the bulging purse was $179,300, to be swollen to $190,300 if all 11 start after their owners cough up another $1,000 apiece.

About 35,000 persons were on hand to see Brookmeade Stable's Sword Dancer, the probable favorite, take on 10 classy challengers.

Of these, the advance odds-guessers gave First Landing of Christopher T. Chenery's Meadow stable the best chance of beating the game little colt who lost by a heart-breaking nose to the now absent Tomy Lee in the Kentucky Derby two weeks ago. First Landing, shuffled back in the 17-horse pack in that one, got up enough steam to finish third by two lengths.

Lending a special twist to the nationally televised (4:30-5 p.m. CBS) drama scheduled to unfold at 4:45 (EST) was Willie Shoemaker's clambering aboard Sword Dancer. It was Willie who steered Tomy Lee to victory in the mile-and-a-quarter derby.

Pony League Officials To Meet Monday Night

Officers, managers and umpires of the Pony League will meet Monday night at 8 in the Travelers Hotel, Don Hancock, player representative, announced. Jim Walker is president.

Wayne State, Reserve Track Meet Favorites

CLEVELAND (AP) — Wayne State and defending champion Western Reserve each qualified seven men to share the role of favorite going into today's Presidents Athletic Conference track finals.

Allegheny, Washington & Jefferson and Case Tech each placed five men in the finals. Thiel and John Carroll had one each.

John Carroll went into today's final 18 holes of golf with a 13-stroke lead over Washington & Jefferson. Carroll's defending golf champions had 316 strokes after the first 18 holes. Washington & Jefferson had 329 and Wayne State's four-man squad had 339 strokes.

Cincinnati Elder Seeks Title Repeat

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati Elder, defending Class AA state high school baseball champion, has hammered its way into this year's finals.

The team Friday won its regional tests, beating Dayton Fairborn, 8-3, in the semi-finals and Dayton Fairview, 5-0, in the finals.

Gopher Nine Nears Repeat

By The Associated Press

Minnesota took another step toward its second straight Big Ten baseball championship by scoring two runs in the ninth inning Friday to defeat Iowa 3-1.

With five games left to play, the Gophers hold a game and a half lead over Illinois which defeated Michigan 8-5.

In other games Friday, Michigan State climbed into a third place tie with Indiana by defeating Purdue 6-3; Wisconsin downed Ohio State 6-3; and Northwestern clipped Indiana 4-3.

Minnesota (8-1) plays a doubleheader at Iowa (3-7) today and Illinois (7-3) takes on Michigan State (6-4) in a twin bill. Other doubleheader action finds Indiana (6-4) at Wisconsin (5-5), Ohio State (4-6) at Northwestern (3-6) and Michigan (5-5) at Purdue (1-7).

A five-run rally in the third inning featuring Ed Cannon's two-run double was all pitcher Marty Stillman needed to lift Wisconsin into the first division. Ohio State collected nine hits but couldn't bunch them effectively.

Harrison Leads Sam Snead Golf By 1 With 136

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP)—The old guard of golf represented by 49-year-old E. J. (Dutch) Hharrison and 47-year-old Sam Snead were lording it over the new crop again today swinging into the third round of the 12th annual festival at Snead's domain.

Harrison stepped into the halfway lead of the 72-hole Snead Festival Friday with his second workmanlike two-under-par 68.

Snead fell a stroke off his opening 68, but his 137 total still kept him in the threatening runner-up spot.

Doug Sanders, 25-year-old from Cedartown, Ga., managed to cling in contention in third place. Sanders and the 23-year-old Bruce Crampton of Sydney, Australia, had stolen the opening show with 67 scores.

Sanders went one over par 70 on his second tour of the 52-degree, windswept course in the mountains for a 138 total. Crampton, complaining bitterly of the cold, rocketed to 73 and his even par 140 strokes were matched by four others in the field of 54.

Win Maumee Races

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Two consecutive races at Maumee Downs race track Friday were won by a full brother and sister, owned by the same, trained by the same trainer and ridden by the same jockey. The two horses—Wacker, a 6-year-old gelding, and Disply, a 7-year-old chestnut mare—are owned by F. E. Wink of Willard and were trained by Walter Fischer of Toledo. The jockey was Louie Argenio.

Top Driver To Appear At Canfield Saturday

Canfield Speedway will feature one of the top drivers in racing Saturday night when Bob James of Montrose appears on the eight-race card.

James pilots new cars, late models and modified "bombs". Eight races are scheduled, including two features, a 20-lap race for late models and a 25-lap meet for modified cars.

Entangler's Favorite In Ascot's Gold Cup

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mrs. Laura Hamill's Entangler, packing top weight of 123 pounds, was the favorite over 11 other horses in today's 19th running of the two-mile Ascot Gold Cup.

Because of recent rains the Ascot Park turf may be muddy and upset the form. Chief competition for Entangler is expected to come from Golden Lark, Deadly Actor and Ferman.

California Governor Signs Second Base Bill

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown figures second base might come in handy when the San Francisco Giants move into their new stadium at Candlestick Point later this season.

By an odd omission, when a portion of the ball park area was sold by the state in 1870, the transaction was never properly recorded. As a result the state still technically owns a hunk of real estate right where second base will be.

Brown signed a bill Friday to prevent anyone but the ball players from stealing second base.

Kathleen Attorney Wins Lebanon Race

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Kathleen Attorney, a little-rated brown mare, hung back in last place through the first half of the race, then put on a stretch drive to victory in the featured pace at Lebanon Raceway Friday night.

But the judges had to untangle a five-horse photo finish before the verdict was set. Kathleen Attorney beat out Johnny Chase for the victory.

The 2:06 mile by the mare returned $16.40, $7.20 and $4 to mutuel bettors.

Al Washington, a Bedford, Pa., driver, came in with both ends of the daily double. Victories by Virginia Oliver and King Steven set up a $32.80 return.

A crowd of 2,044 bet $70,531.

Tennis Finals Set

GRANVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The final rounds of the Ohio Conference tennis championship will be played here today with defending champion Ohio Wesleyan and Oberlin tied for the lead with 6 points. Twelve teams started out in the competition Friday at Granville and Delaware. Kenyon has 5 points, Denison and Wittenberg 4 and Capital 2.

Miami Pitcher Seeks Return To The Majors

By The Associated Press

Miami right-hander John Fisher, sporting a 5-0 record and a flashy 1.40 earned run average, is clamoring for a return shot at a major league pitching berth.

Fisher, who compiled a 14-11 record for Wilson, N. C., in the Carolina League in 1958, was taken to Baltimore's spring training camp for a look-see. The Orioles apparently didn't like what they saw. They're probably rechecking now.

The 20-year-old Augusta, Ga., resident pitched his fifth consecutive complete game Friday night for the Marlins, shutting out Richmond 5-0 on six hits as Miami upped its lead to three games over second-place Buffalo.

In the only other game played, last-place Havana dumped Columbus 8-2. The other clubs were idled by rain.

Consecutive home runs by Tony Gonzalez and Lou Skizas were the key blows in Havana's six - run seventh inning uprising that chased Lynn Lovenguth. Gonzalez blast with two on put the Sugar Kings ahead 4-2 and Skizas put the icing on it with his homer off reliever Don Williams. Emile Cueche scattered nine hits to record his third victory.

Newcombe Pitches, Bats Reds To 5-2 Victory Over Giants

2-Run HR Is Clincher; Cards Wallop Phils, 8-2

It was only the second victory in four decisions this season for Newk, and both have been 5-2 jobs on the Giants. This one reclaimed third place from San Francisco for the Reds and left them within two games of Milwaukee's idle National League leading Braves.

St. Louis walloped Philadelphia 8-2 behind Wilmer Mizell's four-hitter in the only other scheduled game.

Newcombe, 32, who has won only 20 games since being named baseball's top pitcher in 1956 with 27 victories for the Dodgers, gave up seven hits, walked none and struck out seven. He lost his shut-out bid in the sixth when Leon Wagner's third homer in three days was good for both Giant runs.

Newk was 3-for-4 in the Reds' 14-hit attack. He doubled home a second-inning run, then put it out of reach with a two-run homer in the fourth off loser Jack Sanford (5-3).

The Cardinals swung for a dozen hits against loser Robin Roberts (2-2) and three relievers with George Crowe, Ken Boyer and Bill White hitting solo home runs.

Flying Bank Robber Will Get Sanity Test

CINCINNATI (AP) — A sanity exam is scheduled for Frank Lawrence Sprenz, 29, accused of a Hamilton bank robbery and a stolen plane getaway.

Judge John H. Druffel, in U. S. District Court, named Dr. J. H. Dornheggen of Cincinnati to complete the psychiatric tests.

Harry Abrams, one of Sprenz court-appointed lawyers asked for the mental tests, saying the Akron man refuses to eat, thinks his food is poisoned, refuses to shave or take off his dark glasses and "is beginning to look like Castro, prime minister of Cuba."

Sprenz is slated to go on trial May 20 on charges in the $25,955 robbery of a Hamilton, Ohio, bank.

Qualifying Runs Start For Indianapolis Race

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Indianapolis Motor Speedway officials today began the dangerous job of whittling an oversize field of 61 cars down to 33 starters for the 43rd 500-mile auto race May 30.

The first of four qualifying days was expected to attract a crowd of 100,000 or more—probably the nation's biggest for a preliminary event.

The procedure was simple. Each driver wheeled onto the 2½-mile track and drove four laps as fast as he could. He could quit on two runs if he wasn't satisfied but three attempts were the limit.

Other qualifying runs will be held next weekend.

Dennis Crosby To Pay For Support Of Child

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dennis Crosby, who says he's worth $208,000, must pay $350 a month for a child he denies is his, pending trial of a paternity suit.

Marilyn Scott, 27, a divorcee, said Bing Crosby's son fathered her 18-month-old daughter, Denise. She asked the court Friday for $460 a month temporary support, saying she had only 80 cents.

Dennis, 24, has been paying $300 a month on a voluntary basis, but denied fathering the child.

White Injures Back

BOSTON (AP)—Sammy White, No. 1 catcher on the Boston Red Sox, remained overnight at Sancta Maria Hospital after injuring his back Friday night in a game with Cleveland. White turned pale after running out a single in the second inning. Red Sox officials said there was no explanation of how the injury occurred or of the extent of its seriousness.

Sugar-Carmen 'Tangled Up'

NEW YORK (AP)—Carmen Basilio still is waiting and Sugar Ray Robinson still is bobbing and weaving in his running battle with the New York State Athletic Commission.

Robinson claims he already has complied with the orders of the commission and the State Supreme Court by signing for a Sept. 21 defense of his world middleweight boxing title in Philadelphia. The commission isn't so sure.

Melvin Krulewitch, chairman of the commission, ordered Robinson to appear Monday afternoon with all available evidence to prove he has "entered into articles of agreement to defend against Basilio." The Supreme Court said April 30 he must do that in 15 days or risk the vacating of his title by the commission.

Basilio has signed nothing.

"What can I do?" he asked in Syracuse. "All I can do is wait. The rules are the rules."

Hot Springs Open Paced By Bayer With Hot Putter

HOT SPRINGS, Akr. (AP) — George Bayer of Gleneagles, Ill., took his torrid putter and a five-stroke lead into the third round of the $22,000 Hot Springs Open Golf Tournament today.

Bayer was magic on the greens Friday as he tamed the Arlington Country Club course with a record-tying 63 for a 36-hole total of 131.

It was the second straight day the Hot Springs lead was bought with a score matching the competitive course record. Art Wall Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa., grabbed the first-round lead with a 63 Thursday, but he soared to one-over-par 73 Friday for a 136 total.

Tied with Wall were Wes Ellis Jr., of Aldecress, N.J.; Gene Littler of Singing Hills, Calif.; Jim Ferree of Winston-Salem, N.C.; and Bob Goalby of Crystal River, Fla.

Frank Beley of Canton, Ohio, has a 146 total on rounds of 72-74.

Flying Bank Robber Will Get Sanity Test

CINCINNATI (AP) — A sanity exam is scheduled for Frank Lawrence Sprenz, 29, accused of a Hamilton bank robbery and a stolen plane getaway.

Judge John H. Druffel, in U. S. District Court, named Dr. J. H. Dornheggen of Cincinnati to complete the psychiatric tests.

Harry Abrams, one of Sprenz court-appointed lawyers asked for the mental tests, saying the Akron man refuses to eat, thinks his food is poisoned, refuses to shave or take off his dark glasses and "is beginning to look like Castro, prime minister of Cuba."

Sprenz is slated to go on trial May 20 on charges in the $25,955 robbery of a Hamilton, Ohio, bank.

Qualifying Runs Start For Indianapolis Race

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Indianapolis Motor Speedway officials today began the dangerous job of whittling an oversize field of 61 cars down to 33 starters for the 43rd 500-mile auto race May 30.

The first of four qualifying days was expected to attract a crowd of 100,000 or more—probably the nation's biggest for a preliminary event.

The procedure was simple. Each driver wheeled onto the 2½-mile track and drove four laps as fast as he could. He could quit on two runs if he wasn't satisfied but three attempts were the limit.

Other qualifying runs will be held next weekend.

Dennis Crosby To Pay For Support Of Child

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dennis Crosby, who says he's worth $208,000, must pay $350 a month for a child he denies is his, pending trial of a paternity suit.

Marilyn Scott, 27, a divorcee, said Bing Crosby's son fathered her 18-month-old daughter, Denise. She asked the court Friday for $460 a month temporary support, saying she had only 80 cents.

Dennis, 24, has been paying $300 a month on a voluntary basis, but denied fathering the child.

White Injures Back

BOSTON (AP)—Sammy White, No. 1 catcher on the Boston Red Sox, remained overnight at Sancta Maria Hospital after injuring his back Friday night in a game with Cleveland. White turned pale after running out a single in the second inning. Red Sox officials said there was no explanation of how the injury occurred or of the extent of its seriousness.

Sugar-Carmen 'Tangled Up'

NEW YORK (AP)—Carmen Basilio still is waiting and Sugar Ray Robinson still is bobbing and weaving in his running battle with the New York State Athletic Commission.

Robinson claims he already has complied with the orders of the commission and the State Supreme Court by signing for a Sept. 21 defense of his world middleweight boxing title in Philadelphia. The commission isn't so sure.

Melvin Krulewitch, chairman of the commission, ordered Robinson to appear Monday afternoon with all available evidence to prove he has "entered into articles of agreement to defend against Basilio." The Supreme Court said April 30 he must do that in 15 days or risk the vacating of his title by the commission.

Basilio has signed nothing.

"What can I do?" he asked in Syracuse. "All I can do is wait. The rules are the rules."

Hot Springs Open Paced By Bayer With Hot Putter

HOT SPRINGS, Akr. (AP) — George Bayer of Gleneagles, Ill., took his torrid putter and a five-stroke lead into the third round of the $22,000 Hot Springs Open Golf Tournament today.

Bayer was magic on the greens Friday as he tamed the Arlington Country Club course with a record-tying 63 for a 36-hole total of 131.

It was the second straight day the Hot Springs lead was bought with a score matching the competitive course record. Art Wall Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa., grabbed the first-round lead with a 63 Thursday, but he soared to one-over-par 73 Friday for a 136 total.

Tied with Wall were Wes Ellis Jr., of Aldecress, N.J.; Gene Littler of Singing Hills, Calif.; Jim Ferree of Winston-Salem, N.C.; and Bob Goalby of Crystal River, Fla.

Frank Beley of Canton, Ohio, has a 146 total on rounds of 72-74.

By The Associated Press

Pitching — Billy Pierce, White Sox, became the first left-hander to shut out the Yankees since 1956, giving up six hits, all singles, walking only two and striking out seven for 6-0 victory.

Hitting—Don Newcombe, Reds, won his own game by driving in three runs, counting the clincher with a two-run homer, in 5-2 decision over the Giants.

Won't Lower Dollar Value, U.S. Declares

WASHINGTON (AP)—Treasury officials say the United States will not devaluate the dollar despite the increasing flow of gold from the country.

As of last Tuesday, the Treasury reported Friday, there was about 20¼ billion dollars worth of gold on hand. This meant that almost 200 million dollars worth moved to foreign countries in about six weeks. On Tuesday alone, the United States shipped 10 million dollars worth.

The news pushed up the prices of gold mining stocks Friday on the New York Stock Exchange. In London, the price of gold bullion in the free world reached its highest point since postwar trading began five years ago.

The obvious implication was that speculators expect the United States to raise the price it will pay for gold, another way of saying it will devaluate the dollar.

International trade accounts for the shift of gold. The United States has been importing large amounts of goods and services. But there has been a big drop in exports. And it is continuing.

Because of this, the past year and a half has seen the United States pay out more money than it is taking in. To balance these international payments, gold has been taken from the United States and transferred to foreign banks.

Marines 'Will Land' In Seaway Celebration

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Marines will be landing, literally, at Cleveland in a July 18 exercise connected with this city's St. Lawrence Seaway celebration.

Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze gave approval Friday to a mock invasion at Edgewater Beach by 1,500 men of the Second Battalion, Sixth Marine Regiment. The unit will accompany a 28-ship Navy task force on a seaway cruise.

The mayor earlier had opposed the landing for fear of damage to the park's recreation area, but he changed his position in a conference with Navy and Marine officers.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY MEYERS

Cultivate The Bright Child Before School

Many parents ask for advice concerning the education of the child before he enters school. An Ohio mother writes: "Our son is a little over three years of age. We always thought he was very bright, but we felt it was because he is an only child and we spend quite a bit of time with him. He recognizes most of the letters of the alphabet and he can print some of the letters. He can count to twelve and he knows the numbers from one to six on sight, no matter how we mix them up.

By Garry Meyers

"He has a very good memory and he can tell us the names of all the different gas stations around here, even when we print the name on his blackboard without any color or decoration around it.

"We have been told that he is way above average for his age.

"OUR PROBLEM is that in this county the law states that a child must be six years old by September 15th in order to start school. Our son's birthday is September 20th. We have no kindergarten in this county and it would be impossible to enter him in a private school because of the transportation problem.

"He wants to learn and we want to help him, but if he gets too far ahead he'll get bored in the first grade and lose interest in school.

"Please tell us what to do."

My reply in part:

Obviously you have a very bright child. You are right that it won't, in the long run, be to his advantage to get far ahead in school work. But you can stimulate his mental growth and development at home by reading a great deal to him.

Just keep reading and reading. Read not only fanciful stories but also interesting facts that he can understand. Answer all his questions kindly and stimulate his interest.

Go with him to the library. Show him a few books with many pictures and read a bit from each so he may choose the one he wants to borrow and take home.

Also encourage him to make things with his hands—create with blocks, paper, clay, etc. Help him to have good times with other children his age. Also to grow self-reliant, conform to family regulations and do some regular chores.

My bulletins, "Why Read to Baby and Young Child?" and "Letting Baby and Tot Learn," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

No Trouble With Her, Father Says Of Girl Who Shot Mother

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Machinist George Rainer wept softly as he talked of his daughter, a pretty choir girl who took her mother's life with a shotgun.

"I never had a minute's trouble with that girl," he said. "She never talked back or anything."

Darlene Rainer, 14, sobbed out a story of strict family discipline Friday which she said led to the shooting of her mother, Lena Rainer, 38. The woman was struck by a gunshot blast as she cradled her 11-month-old son, feeding him. The baby, Ronald Wayne, was unhurt.

Officers turned the girl over to juvenile authorities.

Darlene told police her mother promised her a whipping for talking with a Latin-American boy friend on the telephone. She said she had never been out with him.

Rainer, 42, said he had ordered Darlene not to go to school "because I wanted to talk to her."

"I have never even suspected that she was seeing a Mexican," Rainer said. "I do not hate the Mexican race, but I do not approve of my daughter fraternizing with them."

The girl said a "voice" told her: "You know where the gun is. Go on and get it and pull the trigger." She got her father's shotgun from a closet, she said, and loaded it. Her mother rested on a bed nursing her youngest child, her back to Darlene.

"I raised the gun and pointed it at her and pulled the trigger," the girl said. Police said the mother died instantly.

Parents Praying For Miracles For Their Two Sons

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—A young mother and father, holding tragedy at arm's length, are praying for two miracles.

Their two sons, stricken with granulomatis, a rare glandular disease, are not expected to live very long doctors have told them.

Mr. and Mrs. Bailey E. Payne said doctors say it is incredible that two cases have occurred in one family.

The boys, Bailey Jr., 4, and Christopher, 2½, were stricken about two years ago. The father is a factory worker.

"We know that doctors don't believe these children will live very long," the mother said Friday. "But we believe they will. We are praying that they will somehow recover."

Motorist Shoots Self; Car Kills Pedestrian

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—A motorist shot himself Friday while driving along a main thoroughfare and his car ran down three pedestrians.

Vernon Donald Kelly, 22, the driver, and Percy Lonsdale, 70, a pedestrian, died in a hospital. The other pedestrians were seriously hurt.

After Kelly shot himself in the head, his car smashed into a taxi, then struck the pedestrians. Lonsdale was caught underneath the car. It dragged him half a city block before a bystander stopped it.

Police said Kelly shot himself in front of the business firm from which he recently was fired as an investment company clerk.

Jury Will Get Case Monday In Rape-Kill Trial

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Common Pleas Court jury will begin deliberations Monday to determine the fate of accused rape-slayer David Stanley Smith.

The 21-year-old defendant has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity to charges that he sexually assaulted and shot an expectant mother, Mrs. Janice O. Porter, at her home near here last Dec. 16.

The state and the defense rested their cases Friday in the first-degree murder trial. Both sides will present closing arguments Monday, and then Judge Kenneth L. Sater will give instructions to the jury of eight men and four women.

Conviction, without a recommendation of mercy, means death in the electric chair.

Three state rebuttal witnesses concluded trial testimony Friday The three, all psychiatrists, testified that Smith, a part-time university student, was sane at the time of the crime.

Two psychiatrists who testified previously for the defense maintained that Smith has been and still is mentally ill.

Sen. Douglas Cites Presidential Expenses

MONTICELLO, N.Y. (AP)—Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill) says the White House should set an example for economy by cutting down presidential expenses.

Douglas, speaking Friday night at the 12th annual convention of the American Veterans Committee claimed White House expenses under President Eisenhower are twice what they were under President Truman. Douglas specifically cited expenditures for new limousines, helicopters and personnel.

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I mend broken glass?

A. Glass may be mended with a cement made by dissolving white shellac in enough alcohol to make a mixture of the consistency of molasses. This cement will resist ordinary wear, but should be kept out of very hot water.

Q. How can I remove rain spots from leather?

A. If there are rain spots on leather, it is better to take a clean, wet cloth and go over the entire piece of leather, to keep the color uniform.

Q. How can I remedy sticky windows?

A. The best remedy for sticking window sashes is the application of a little lard, oil or soap in the grooves.

The four largest countries in the world are the U.S.S.R., China, Canada and Brazil, in that order.

Won't Lower Dollar Value, U.S. Declares

WASHINGTON (AP)—Treasury officials say the United States will not devaluate the dollar despite the increasing flow of gold from the country.

As of last Tuesday, the Treasury reported Friday, there was about 20¼ billion dollars worth of gold on hand. This meant that almost 200 million dollars worth moved to foreign countries in about six weeks. On Tuesday alone, the United States shipped 10 million dollars worth.

The news pushed up the prices of gold mining stocks Friday on the New York Stock Exchange. In London, the price of gold bullion in the free world reached its highest point since postwar trading began five years ago.

The obvious implication was that speculators expect the United States to raise the price it will pay for gold, another way of saying it will devaluate the dollar.

International trade accounts for the shift of gold. The United States has been importing large amounts of goods and services. But there has been a big drop in exports. And it is continuing.

Because of this, the past year and a half has seen the United States pay out more money than it is taking in. To balance these international payments, gold has been taken from the United States and transferred to foreign banks.

Marines 'Will Land' In Seaway Celebration

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Marines will be landing, literally, at Cleveland in a July 18 exercise connected with this city's St. Lawrence Seaway celebration.

Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze gave approval Friday to a mock invasion at Edgewater Beach by 1,500 men of the Second Battalion, Sixth Marine Regiment. The unit will accompany a 28-ship Navy task force on a seaway cruise.

The mayor earlier had opposed the landing for fear of damage to the park's recreation area, but he changed his position in a conference with Navy and Marine officers.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY MEYERS

Cultivate The Bright Child Before School

Many parents ask for advice concerning the education of the child before he enters school. An Ohio mother writes: "Our son is a little over three years of age. We always thought he was very bright, but we felt it was because he is an only child and we spend quite a bit of time with him. He recognizes most of the letters of the alphabet and he can print some of the letters. He can count to twelve and he knows the numbers from one to six on sight, no matter how we mix them up.

By Garry Meyers

"He has a very good memory and he can tell us the names of all the different gas stations around here, even when we print the name on his blackboard without any color or decoration around it.

"We have been told that he is way above average for his age.

"OUR PROBLEM is that in this county the law states that a child must be six years old by September 15th in order to start school. Our son's birthday is September 20th. We have no kindergarten in this county and it would be impossible to enter him in a private school because of the transportation problem.

"He wants to learn and we want to help him, but if he gets too far ahead he'll get bored in the first grade and lose interest in school.

"Please tell us what to do."

My reply in part:

Obviously you have a very bright child. You are right that it won't, in the long run, be to his advantage to get far ahead in school work. But you can stimulate his mental growth and development at home by reading a great deal to him.

Just keep reading and reading. Read not only fanciful stories but also interesting facts that he can understand. Answer all his questions kindly and stimulate his interest.

Go with him to the library. Show him a few books with many pictures and read a bit from each so he may choose the one he wants to borrow and take home.

Also encourage him to make things with his hands—create with blocks, paper, clay, etc. Help him to have good times with other children his age. Also to grow self-reliant, conform to family regulations and do some regular chores.

My bulletins, "Why Read to Baby and Young Child?" and "Letting Baby and Tot Learn," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

No Trouble With Her, Father Says Of Girl Who Shot Mother

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Machinist George Rainer wept softly as he talked of his daughter, a pretty choir girl who took her mother's life with a shotgun.

"I never had a minute's trouble with that girl," he said. "She never talked back or anything."

Darlene Rainer, 14, sobbed out a story of strict family discipline Friday which she said led to the shooting of her mother, Lena Rainer, 38. The woman was struck by a gunshot blast as she cradled her 11-month-old son, feeding him. The baby, Ronald Wayne, was unhurt.

Officers turned the girl over to juvenile authorities.

Darlene told police her mother promised her a whipping for talking with a Latin-American boy friend on the telephone. She said she had never been out with him.

Rainer, 42, said he had ordered Darlene not to go to school "because I wanted to talk to her."

"I have never even suspected that she was seeing a Mexican," Rainer said. "I do not hate the Mexican race, but I do not approve of my daughter fraternizing with them."

The girl said a "voice" told her: "You know where the gun is. Go on and get it and pull the trigger." She got her father's shotgun from a closet, she said, and loaded it. Her mother rested on a bed nursing her youngest child, her back to Darlene.

"I raised the gun and pointed it at her and pulled the trigger," the girl said. Police said the mother died instantly.

Jury Will Get Case Monday In Rape-Kill Trial

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Common Pleas Court jury will begin deliberations Monday to determine the fate of accused rape-slayer David Stanley Smith.

The 21-year-old defendant has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity to charges that he sexually assaulted and shot an expectant mother, Mrs. Janice O. Porter, at her home near here last Dec. 16.

The state and the defense rested their cases Friday in the first-degree murder trial. Both sides will present closing arguments Monday, and then Judge Kenneth L. Sater will give instructions to the jury of eight men and four women.

Conviction, without a recommendation of mercy, means death in the electric chair.

Three state rebuttal witnesses concluded trial testimony Friday The three, all psychiatrists, testified that Smith, a part-time university student, was sane at the time of the crime.

Two psychiatrists who testified previously for the defense maintained that Smith has been and still is mentally ill.

Parents Praying For Miracles For Their Two Sons

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—A young mother and father, holding tragedy at arm's length, are praying for two miracles.

Their two sons, stricken with granulomatis, a rare glandular disease, are not expected to live very long doctors have told them.

Mr. and Mrs. Bailey E. Payne said doctors say it is incredible that two cases have occurred in one family.

The boys, Bailey Jr., 4, and Christopher, 2½, were stricken about two years ago. The father is a factory worker.

"We know that doctors don't believe these children will live very long," the mother said Friday. "But we believe they will. We are praying that they will somehow recover."

Motorist Shoots Self; Car Kills Pedestrian

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—A motorist shot himself Friday while driving along a main thoroughfare and his car ran down three pedestrians.

Vernon Donald Kelly, 22, the driver, and Percy Lonsdale, 70, a pedestrian, died in a hospital. The other pedestrians were seriously hurt.

After Kelly shot himself in the head, his car smashed into a taxi, then struck the pedestrians. Lonsdale was caught underneath the car. It dragged him half a city block before a bystander stopped it.

Police said Kelly shot himself in front of the business firm from which he recently was fired as an investment company clerk.

Sen. Douglas Cites Presidential Expenses

MONTICELLO, N.Y. (AP)—Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill) says the White House should set an example for economy by cutting down presidential expenses.

Douglas, speaking Friday night at the 12th annual convention of the American Veterans Committee claimed White House expenses under President Eisenhower are twice what they were under President Truman. Douglas specifically cited expenditures for new limousines, helicopters and personnel.

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I mend broken glass?

A. Glass may be mended with a cement made by dissolving white shellac in enough alcohol to make a mixture of the consistency of molasses. This cement will resist ordinary wear, but should be kept out of very hot water.

Q. How can I remove rain spots from leather?

A. If there are rain spots on leather, it is better to take a clean, wet cloth and go over the entire piece of leather, to keep the color uniform.

Q. How can I remedy sticky windows?

A. The best remedy for sticking window sashes is the application of a little lard, oil or soap in the grooves.

The four largest countries in the world are the U.S.S.R., China, Canada and Brazil, in that order.

A HIGH-PRICED Home and a GOOD Home are not always the same thing. THESE ARE.

A 3 bedroom, brick veneer home, at 3244 St. Clair Ave. The home has been reduced to rock bottom. The home is complete with carpeted living room, hardwood floors, gas furnace, city water and sewer, basement garage, and large back yard that is beautifully landscaped. The owner is tired of driving out of town to work, but must sell before he can move, so the price has been reduced to $21,400.

An extra large 2 bedroom, 1 story, brick veneer, home on MIDWAY LANE that is just 3 years old. This dream home is perfect for a small family who likes room to breathe. There is a large kitchen and dining area with loads of cupboard room, a living room with open fireplace that's sure to appeal, a full basement, cedar closets, city sewer and water, gas hot-air furnace, and a good lot with beautiful landscaping. $22,500.

The person to see this one year old red brick veneer on a 130x180 lot on the edge of town will have to like it. 3 bedrooms, 2 stone fireplaces, all hardwood floors, attached garage and blacktop drive. Better call us to see it today. $21,000.

THE HOME IS 7 YEARS OLD, WITH 3 LARGE BEDROOMS, DESIGNED WITH CROSS VENTILATION IN EACH ROOM, AND EXTRA LARGE LIVING-ROOM, DINING AREA, BUILT-IN BREAKFAST NOOK, AND A BEAUTIFUL AND SPACIOUS KITCHEN WITH CUPBOARD ROOM TO SPARE. A LARGE MAIN FLOOR UTILITY ROOM, AN ENTANCE FOYER, AND A COVERED BACK PORCH WITH PATIO. THE HOME IS COMPLETE WITH A SMALL DEN OR STUDY, ATTACHED GARAGE, THE MOST MODERN RADIANT HEAT, AND BRUCE BLOCK HARDWOOD FLOORS. THE LAWN IS THE CLOSEST THING WE'VE SEEN TO A PUTTING GREEN ON A GOLF COURSE, AND WE FEEL SURE YOU'LL AGREE THAT THE OWNER HAS DONE JUSTICE TO THE ARCHITECTURAL PROFESSION IN DESIGNING AND BUILDING THIS HOME. THE PRICE IS THE ONLY ITEM IN THIS HOME THAT IS BELOW PAR.

1,400 Of NBC Workers Vote To End Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—About 1,400 striking employes of the National Broadcasting Co. have voted to end a work stoppage that started April 27.

NBC television and radio operations have been continuing with supervisory personnel taking over in place of the striking technicians.

The striking technicians and engineers, voting by secret ballot in seven cities Friday, agreed to a settlement by which NBC dropped its damage suits against the union, which in turn relinquished all claims to jurisdiction over broadcast tape outside the United States.

It was the matter of foreign tape that set off the dispute. Dave Garroway's "Today" program was taped in Paris, with the help of some nonunion technicians. When it came time to go on the air, technicians wouldn't handle it, thus knocking both TV and radio networks off the air for two hours.

The union, the National Assn. of Broadcast Employes and Technicians, claimed that the union members had merely stopped to write grievances, and that the stoppage was a lockout. NBC charged it was a strike in violation of contract and filed damage suits totaling more than a million dollars.

The union had no comment on any of the terms of the settlement. NBC said however, that the settlement included these stipulations:

1. The union gives up all claims of jurisdiction over broadcast tape made outside the country.

2. NBC has the sole right to determine the methods of operations and to make work assignments, subject to revised arbitration provisions.

3. Interference with company operations through mass writing of grievances is prohibited.

The vote to accept the settlement, according to the union, was 5-1. Voting took place in New York, Washington, Chicago, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, San Francisco, and Hollywood.

Nature's Healing Power Hope For Saving Sight Of Coed, 20

DENTON, Tex. (AP)—Nature's healing power must decide whether silver nitrate dashed into the face of a coed robs her of all vision, the doctor said Friday night.

The searing caustic—having the same effect as lye—left Sheila Rene Nelms, 20, in a Denton hospital, blackened and disfigured on the head, neck, legs and chest.

The scalding chemical was hurled as she left a party Thursday night in the apartment of a student at North Texas State College.

Slender Tommy Ray Lester, 19, said he tossed the solution on prankish impulse.

"I'd give anything if it was me instead of her," Lester told newsmen.

County Atty. Robert Caldwell charged Lester with aggravated assault, a misdemeanor. Caldwell said the extent of Miss Nelms' recovery will determine whether he files a more serious charge of maiming.

North Texas State authorities expelled Lester Friday. Sheriff Wylie H. Barnes released him to custody of his parents.

The nitrate tossing happened on the lawn outside the apartment of another male student. Lester lived next door.

"She was leaving and I just kind of sloshed the stuff at her," Lester said. "I didn't think it would hurt her. It was just a joke that backfired. I didn't have any idea the stuff was so strong."

1,400 Of NBC Workers Vote To End Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—About 1,400 striking employes of the National Broadcasting Co. have voted to end a work stoppage that started April 27.

NBC television and radio operations have been continuing with supervisory personnel taking over in place of the striking technicians.

The striking technicians and engineers, voting by secret ballot in seven cities Friday, agreed to a settlement by which NBC dropped its damage suits against the union, which in turn relinquished all claims to jurisdiction over broadcast tape outside the United States.

It was the matter of foreign tape that set off the dispute. Dave Garroway's "Today" program was taped in Paris, with the help of some nonunion technicians. When it came time to go on the air, technicians wouldn't handle it, thus knocking both TV and radio networks off the air for two hours.

The union, the National Assn. of Broadcast Employes and Technicians, claimed that the union members had merely stopped to write grievances, and that the stoppage was a lockout. NBC charged it was a strike in violation of contract and filed damage suits totaling more than a million dollars.

The union had no comment on any of the terms of the settlement. NBC said however, that the settlement included these stipulations:

1. The union gives up all claims of jurisdiction over broadcast tape made outside the country.
2. NBC has the sole right to determine the methods of operations and to make work assignments, subject to revised arbitration provisions.
3. Interference with company operations through mass writing of grievances is prohibited.

The vote to accept the settlement, according to the union, was 5-1. Voting took place in New York, Washington, Chicago, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, San Francisco, and Hollywood.
